Lincoln Highway To Be "Big Link" In State: Shroyer

Modernization of 1,248 miles of interregional highways, including the Lincoln highway (which is not recognized by the federal government as an interregional highway) and construction of the Gettysburg-Washington-Lincoln Memorial Boulevard were advocated by John U. Shroyer, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, at the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting Wednesday evening. The dinner was held in the Hotel Gettysburg dining room.

"I believe in good roads, modern highways that will permit the motorist-visitors from other states to come to Pennsylvania and visit our historic shrines, such as Gettysburg. I believe in good roads for all of our people," declared Mr. Shroyer.

Opposed To Super-Highways

"I am opposed to the construction of super-highways, monumental highways. I want to preserve our historic assets and resources and make it possible of easy access by our motorists.

"I am opposed to federal interference in the construction and maintenance of our highways. It's our money, the taxpayers' money of Pennsylvania, and we know how to spend it to get the most out of a dollar for the greatest number of people.

"I want the federal government to stop levying excise taxes on our motorists."

Largest Road System in U. S.

Continuing, the highway secretary cited Pennsylvania's position in the nation.

"Pennsylvania owns and maintains 40,600 miles of roads, the largest highway system in the country, exceeding the combined total of the states north and east of us and two states south of us. A total of 11,825 men build and maintain those roads in the 67 counties. We spend between $85,000,000 and $95,000,000 a year. We spend four and one-half millions on snow removal.

"We have $51,000,000 in the motor fund and I am unalterably opposed to the transfer of any of this money for any other purpose. Many want to get their hands on that money but I'll fight them every inch of the way," he declared.

Plans For Lincoln Highway

Relative to the Lincoln highway Mr. Shroyer declared that he "intends to make it a prime factor in the highway system of Pennsylvania. It shall be modernized and maintained. One link of 14 miles immediately west of here will be modernized. Other sections will follow. The proposed change in the route immediately west of Gettysburg is not on our program."

Speaking of the Turnpike, Mr. Shroyer declared that it was losing $1,000 a day. He said that it had never reached or achieved its expectation and that it was a costly operation.

He said that the Lincoln boulevard from Gettysburg to Washington should be built and extended to Harrisburg.

Mares Sherman, president of the Chamber, presided. Seventy-six guests were present.

Henry M. Scharf, president of the local Motor club, introduced Mr. Shroyer as a successful manufacturer and a successful and enterprising highway secretary.

Special Guests

Other guests at the speakers' table were Robert E. Tipton and George Rightmyer, of the local post of the Spanish-American war veterans; Burgess Pfeffer, Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, of Chicago; Howard C. Mittinger, consul of the Lincoln Highway association, and M. J. Kelly, special investigator for the Department of Highways.

President Sherman said that the Chamber's treasury balance is $2,549.84.

Edmund W. Thomas reported on the Chamber representatives' attendance at the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce dinner in Harrisburg recently.

COMMISSIONERS ASK BIDS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

The Adams county commissioners Wednesday took the first step to complete the work approved by the court and grand jury of remodeling the commissioners' and treasurer's office at the court house by advertising for bids on the work.

The bids will be opened May 10 at 10 o'clock in the morning. The approval of the court and grand jury was made contingent upon the fact that the "work cost not more than $1,500."

Other activities of the commissioners Wednesday included an order as the county election board, for clerks to begin Friday at noon the official count of the vote cast at the primaries, Tuesday, L. U. Collins and J. Blaine Bushey were named as special clerks for the count. The soldiers' vote will be opened May 5.

Plans for the new offices of the commissioners call for an opening to be cut in the brick wall at the west side of the present inner office to the public space in the treasurer's office. The opening will mark the second time work has been done on that wall, which formerly marked the rear of the court house. With the addition made to the court house many years ago, a window in the wall was bricked up and plastered over.

No Critical Materials

The present office of the commissioners' clerks will be moved into the room now occupied as the commissioners' meeting room. A long counter will be placed in the opened wall. What is now the commissioners' clerks space will be enclosed with a glass brick wall ornamented with pillars at each side. That room will be used for the commissioners' meetings.

No critical materials will be used in the reconstruction with all work to be completed without the necessity of securing priorities, it was stated. The present floors will be sanded and inlaid linoleum placed. The work will begin as soon as possible after the contract is let, it was announced today.

While the reconstruction work is going on the treasurer's office will continue in its present site while the commissioners will move to the former Red Cross office in the court house.

REORGANIZATION OF R. C. COUNCILS BEING PLANNED

Plans for reorganization of the county and district Camp and Hospital Service councils of the Red Cross were outlined Wednesday evening at a meeting of local Red Cross officials with Mrs. Quincy Bent, field representative of the National Camp and Hospital council, at the local Red Cross office.

Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chairman of the county Red Cross; Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Bowen, staff assistants chairman, were the local representatives. Present plans for the reorganization call for contacting the various service groups in the county to offer the assistance of camp and hospital council as a means by which the service clubs can provide furniture, radios and other equipment to nearby camps and hospitals of the armed forces.

Eight Councils In District
The district reorganization will be effected May 10 at a meeting at the New Cumberland reception center to which each of the eight councils now in the district will send a delegate and alternate. Previously 14 councils from Hagerstown to Lewistown were in the district. The eight councils in the reorganized district include Mechanicsburg, Carlisle, Shippensburg, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, Gettysburg, Hanover and York. It was announced.

The councils are being organized in the vicinity of Army and Navy stations and hospitals throughout the country. Mrs. Bent told the group. The Army and Navy are expanding at such a rapid pace that many existing needs cannot be obtained immediately through official sources, she said. Conquest Of New Guinea Nears End; Seize 3 Airfields

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

General MacArthur has three new airfields in New Guinea from which to spring the aerial might spearheading the campaign to clean the Japanese out of the southwest Pacific and hasten the day when he can make his avowed return to the Philippine islands.

MacArthur's communique today reported the capture of Madang town and airfield and of Cyclops and Sentani (Tami) airdromes near Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, 430 miles northwest.

A fourth airdrome and biggest of them all—Hollandia airdrome—has converging American troops on its fringes and report of its capture is imminent.

No Serious Ground Opposition

Conquest of Hollandia airdrome will complete the assault phase of the Hollandia invasion, begun last Saturday. Since then, MacArthur's forces have snatched at least four air bases from the Japanese on New Guinea—the three reported today plus Tadij airdrome at Aitape 150 miles southeast of Hollandia, which fell Saturday.

And still there is no reported major ground opposition. Madang fell to Australia jungle veterans without a pitched battle, Aitape airdrome and village were captured with only 120 enemy killed and Hollandia town and the two airdromes invested thus far were taken with only 100 Japanese killed.

Jap Fliers Kept Off Balance

The only aerial retaliation by the Japanese reported thus far was a one-bomber raid on the Hollandia beachhead Sunday and a strike by 12 torpedo bombers at a destroyer off Hollandia Monday night. The warship escaped without damage.

Allied airmen kept the enemy off-balance by destroying 20 parked planes and shooting down three interceptors in a raid on Kamiri airdrome on Geelvink bay, 400 miles northwest of Hollandia.

WIFE WINS SUIT AGAINST SPOUSE

An Adams county jury Wednesday awarded Georganna Groupe, Hanover, $165.69 after more than an hour's deliberation on the action in assumption she brought against her husband, Alvin C. Groupe, Straban township.

The action was brought by Mrs. Groupe to recover money she allegedly lent her husband over a period of time. She claimed $411 as the amount owed her by her husband.

The court today was hearing the action in assumption brought by Albert and Maria Beck, Chicago, against Elmer F. and Lucille Stanley, near New Chester. The Becks are suing for the return of $1,400 they allege they left with the Stanleys to hold for them when they moved to Chicago. The Stanleys, who claim to have repaid the money are suing the Becks at the same time for $100 which they allege they "overpaid" when they returned the original sum.

The jury in the Beck case includes Charles B. Bender, East Broadway; Raymond Dunlap, Biglerville R. 1; Frank Feiser, New Oxford; Elson Gigue, Biglerville R. 1; George T. Haar, New Oxford; Earl B. Hartzell, Fairfield; Miss Catherine Horweld, Hanover R. 4; Granville Inskip, East Berlin R. 2; Denton R. Miller, Abbottstown; Charles Moul, Abbottstown; Margaret Snyder, New Oxford and Herbert E. Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4.

Rites This Afternoon For Chalmers Kennell

Funeral services were held from the Bender funeral home this afternoon at 2 o'clock for Chalmers C. Kennell, 62, who was found dead in the basement of his home on South Washington street Monday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. N. B. S. Thomas officiated. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Military rites were conducted at the grave by members of the William M. Steffy post of the United Spanish War Veterans.

The pallbearers were Paul Spangler, Joseph Smith, Harry Rhine, Leander Martin, William Eckenrode and Charles Zeigler.

In northern Burma, Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese troops appeared to have broken the back on Japanese resistance slowing the Allied drive down the Mogaung Valley. Southeast Asia headquarters announced the capture of Manipal village less than 35 miles from the key rail center of Mogaung.

Sporadic Fighting

Sporadic fighting continued on the outskirts of Kohima, advance point of the enemy's invasion of India, but Associated Press War Correspondent William Boni reported in a delayed dispatch from the northern India front that Allied officers foresee a major defeat for the Japanese in their Burma-India campaign in view of the heavy enemy casualties. There has been no interruption in the flow of essential supplies to China or to Allied troops in Burma, Boni said officers told him.

Central Pacific headquarters announced a two-day aerial strike at Paramushiro, Matsuwa and Shumushu islands in the far-north Kuriles Sunday and Monday. A 36-ton bombing raid on Truk in the Carolines, another blow at Ponape, Truk's eastern guardian, and a 138-ton smash at four by-passed Japanese bases in the eastern Marshall islands.

Jap Action

In northern China, Japan is reported to have drawn 18 divisions including many from Manchuria from a major campaign to link the north and south China operations by rail, Chinese headquarters said. Enemy forces were reported to have turned from Chongshien to toward Tengfeng, 40 miles southwest, and Chinese admitted their troops had given ground at a mid-way point.

GIRL BEARERS AT BOLEN RITES

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock this morning for little Eleanor Bolen, three-year-old adopted daughter of Pvt. and Mrs. Edward Taylor, who drowned in the swollen waters of the Tiber early Monday evening.

Services were conducted at the Bender funeral home. The Rev. Elmer Drumm and the Rev. J. M. Myers officiated. Burial was in the Fairview cemetery at Arendtsville.

The pallbearers were four girls: Jean Starry, Mabel Decker, Mae Russell and Katherine Richardson. "I am very grateful to the Gettysburg firemen and the other volunteers who worked so hard and so diligently to find the body of my little daughter. It was a trying situation and the result of their efforts was a great relief to me in my hour of grief. I wish to publicly express my thanks and appreciation to all the volunteer searchers," said the little girl's mother, Mrs. Edward Taylor, today.

Plans for the new offices of the commissioners call for an opening to be cut in the brick wall at the west side of the present inner office to the public space in the treasurer's office. The opening will mark the second time work has been done on that wall, which formerly marked the rear of the court house. With the addition made to the court house many years ago, a window in the wall was bricked up and plastered over.

No Critical Materials

The present office of the commissioners' clerks will be moved into the room now occupied as the commissioners' meeting room. A long counter will be placed in the opened wall. What is now the commissioners' clerks space will be enclosed with a glass brick wall ornamented with pillars at each side. That room will be used for the commissioners' meetings.

No critical materials will be used in the reconstruction with all work to be completed without the necessity of securing priorities, it was stated. The present floors will be sanded and inlaid linoleum placed. The work will begin as soon as possible after the contract is let, it was announced today.

While the reconstruction work is going on the treasurer's office will continue in its present site while the commissioners will move to the former Red Cross office in the court house.

REORGANIZATION OF R. C. COUNCILS BEING PLANNED

Plans for reorganization of the county and district Camp and Hospital Service councils of the Red Cross were outlined Wednesday evening at a meeting of local Red Cross officials with Mrs. Quincy Bent, field representative of the National Camp and Hospital council, at the local Red Cross office.

Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chairman of the county Red Cross; Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Bowen, staff assistants chairman, were the local representatives. Present plans for the reorganization call for contacting the various service groups in the county and hospital council as a means by which the service clubs can provide furniture, radios and other equipment to nearby camps and hospitals of the armed forces.

Eight Councils In District

The district reorganization will be effected May 10 at a meeting at the New Cumberland reception center to which each of the eight councils now in the district will send a delegate and alternate. Previously 14 councils from Hagerstown to Lewistown were in the district. The eight councils in the reorganized district include Mechanicsburg, Carlisle, Shippensburg, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, Gettysburg, Hanover and York, it was announced.

The councils are being organized in the vicinity of Army and Navy stations and hospitals throughout the country. Mrs. Bent told the group. The Army and Navy are expanding at such a rapid pace that many existing needs cannot be obtained immediately through official sources, she said. The Camp and Hospital committee is designed to meet these needs upon request from the military as submitted to the Red Cross field director stationed on the post.

Conquest Of New Guinea Nears End; Seize 3 Airfields

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

MACARTHUR HAS THREE NEW AIRFIELDS IN NEW GUINEA FROM WHICH TO SPRING THE AERIAL MIGHT SPEARHEADING THE CAMPAIGN TO CLEAN THE JAPANESE OUT OF THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AND HASTEN THE DAY WHEN HE CAN MAKE HIS AVOWED RETURN TO THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

MacArthur's communique today reported the capture of Madang town and airfield and of Cyclops and Sentani (Tami) airdromes near Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, 430 miles northwest.

A fourth airdrome and biggest of them all—Hollandia airdrome—has converging American troops on its fringes and report of its capture is imminent.

No Serious Ground Opposition

Conquest of Hollandia airdrome will complete the assault phase of the Hollandia invasion, begun last Saturday. Since then, MacArthur's forces have snatched at least four air bases from the Japanese on New Guinea—the three reported today plus Tadij airdrome at Aitape 150 miles south-east of Hollandia, which fell Saturday.

And still there is no reported major ground opposition. Madang fell to Australia jungle veterans without a pitched battle. Aitape airdrome and village were captured with only 120 enemy killed and Hollandia town and the two airdromes invested thus far were taken with only 100 Japanese killed.

Jap Fliers Kept Off Balance

The only aerial retaliation by the Japanese reported thus far was a one-bomber raid on the Hollandia beachhead Sunday and a strike by 12 torpedo bombers at a destroyer off Hollandia Monday night. The warship escaped without damage.

Allied airmen kept the enemy off-balance by destroying 20 parked planes and shooting down three interceptors in a raid on Kamiri airdrome on Geelvink bay, 400 miles north-west of Hollandia.

SWEDISH PAPER IS STIRRED BY YANK REQUEST

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Our Uncle Sam, having expressed dissatisfaction with Sweden's rejection of the Allied request to stop sending ball bearings — vital war material — to Germany, has had his coat-tails stepped on by the Stockholm Aftonbladet, one of Sweden's big newspapers.

Aftonbladet asserts that Britain merely supported the request and that Russia "was the last to say anything." The paper then voices surprise that the note "came from a nation which among the Allies has done the least in the war" and that means us.

Well, that's blunt language, but frankness can be employed between friendly peoples like the Swedes and Americans. Aftonbladet's appraisal invites two important questions: 1. What justification is there for the Allied request? 2. By what standard do we measure the worth of war contribution?

Sweden's Problem

First off, we can readily understand the difficulties of Sweden's position. Ever since the war started she has been sitting under Nazi-dom's big guns, in constant danger of attack. The bulk of her essential foreign imports come from Germany, and for this there has had to be a quid pro quo. Sweden is indeed lucky in being able to maintain neutrality and independence.

Having admitted this we come to the present Allied viewpoint. The Allies have recognized Sweden's troubles and up until now haven't made embarrassing requests. They conceded that she wasn't prepared to stand up against Hitler's military might without aid, and they couldn't give adequate help.

Now, however, the picture has changed. The Fuehrer already is a beaten man. It only remains to be seen how long he can hang on by the skin of his teeth. We are about to enter the crucial final stretch of the conflict, and most experts agree with our Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States Navy, that victory over Germany is possible this year.

Can Get Allied Aid

At long last we are able to give Sweden ample aid if she is attacked by Germany. The same is true of other neutrals. On that basis the Allies feel that those who don't line up with them are against them. They know that Sweden in her heart stands for the justice of the United Nations' cause. Therefore they ask her to stop rendering vital aid to the Reich and prolonging the war as we plunge into armageddon.

And now for the claim that America has done the least among the big three. Do we measure the contribution in blood? If so we must admit that both Russia and the British empire have had far greater casualties than the United States, which hasn't been in the war so long.

How Much Help?

Do we gauge it by the lease-lend program under which we already have sent $22,500,000,000 to our Allies? Do we judge by Marshal Stalin's little toast during the Teheran conference that "without American production the United Nations could never have won the war?" Do we figure it on the basis of the Titanic war machine we've created — a machine which among other things will give us a Navy equal to that of all other nations by the end of the year — a machine which is about to swing into top gear with a vast expenditure in lives?

None of these things, it strikes me, gives a correct measure. I think the only true gauge of war contribution is the will of a nation to give everything it has, in total co-operation with its Allies, to achieve victory. If each ally does its best, then its contribution is the equal of those of the other partners — no greater, no less.

SGT. NICKOLLS GETS CITATION

Master Sergeant Edward Nickolls, husband of Mrs. Virginia M. (Nuss) Nickolls, 423 Baltimore street, has been awarded a special letter of commendation by Col. Milton W. Arnold, Air Corps commanding officer at the local man's post somewhere in England. The letter is in recognition of the completion of 25 combat missions.

The letter follows: "You are to be commended highly for your splendid leadership ability as Flight Chief in aiding the crew which so ably maintained aircraft No. 42-40370 in its successful completion of 25 combat missions without aborting."

"By your ability to supervise and instruct personnel in the proper maintenance of aircraft, you have contributed greatly to this accomplishment. Your excellent spirit and will to work is reflected in the men under you."

Completed 25 Missions

"Under the conditions which prevail in the European theater of operations, it is not an easy task for an aircraft to achieve this record. You have aptly shown in your splendid work that adverse conditions are no deterrent if the proper spirit prevails."

The aircraft referred to in the letter which has been sent to Mrs. Nickolls is called "Heaven Can Wait" and is described as the last of the famous old Liberators that took part in the Ploesti and Weimer-Neustadt raids that are bowing out of the combat picture. The log of this B-24 tells a story that few ships can match. The plane is now being used as a training ship.

"Heaven Can Wait" has 35 bombing missions to its credit in three theaters—Middle East, the African theater and the European theaters. Nickolls has been in the service for two years. He has been overseas since July, 1943, and now is stationed somewhere in England.

Kenosha, Wis., April 27 (AP)—Oscar Ulysses Zerk, 65-year-old millionaire engineer-inventor, and Miss Adele Zirk, 24-year-old war plant clerk, were married last night, culminating a two weeks romance which started through correspondence between the two because of a similarity in their names.

When Miss Zirk, a clerk in a Caldwell, N. J., war plant, saw the name of Zerk in a published document she wrote to him and asked about his ancestors as she wondered if they might be related.

Zerk, in answering her letter, said they were not related.

Publishers Criticize WLB Mediation Setup

New York, April 27 (AP)—The War Labor board arbitration machinery was criticized today by the special standing committee of the American Newspaper Publishers association as dominated by "outsiders" whose findings "are indiscriminate and frequently unjust."

"It is a well-known fact that government procedures result in having perfume manufacturers sitting on panels to represent meat packers, while an airplane builder is apt to be called upon for consultation in matters that involve the operation of wholesale groceries," the committee reported.

The report was issued as the ANPA meeting went into its third and final day.

Election of officers, a study of the relation of radio and newspapers, and addresses tonight by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Eric A. Johnston, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will complete the program.

LAKE STEAMER SINKS IN ERIE; 10 SEAMEN LOST

Cleveland, April 27 (AP)—Two ship collisions occurred in a heavy fog which swept over Lake Erie at Dawn today, resulting in the loss of 10 seamen and two lake freight carriers.

The James H. Reed, operated by Pickands Mather lines for the Interlake Steamship Company, of Cleveland sank about 40 miles north of Erie, Pa., after colliding with the steamer Ashcroft, operated by Canadian Steamship Lines, Ltd., of Montreal.

Second Collision

The crewmen from the Reed were feared lost, and 26 survivors were taken aboard the Ashcroft which headed for Erie.

The Columbia Transit Company's steamer Frank Vigor, was reported sunk in Pelee passage of western Lake Erie at about the same time, 5:30 a. m. (Central Wartime), after colliding with the steamer Phillip Minch, owned by the Kinsman Transit Company.

All members of the Vigor's crew were transferred to the Minch and there were no injured, the Coast Guard reported.

The Reed 448-foot freighter built in 1903 was enroute from Escanaba, Mich., to Buffalo, N. Y., with a load of iron ore, and the Ashcroft was enroute from Buffalo to Toledo, Ohio, to take on a load of coal.

The Vigor was a 6,000-ton, 412-foot steel ship, traveling from Chicago to Buffalo with a load of surplus.

Coast Guard officials said 26 survivors of the Reed were enroute to Erie, Pa., and that Coast Guard medical officers from Cleveland were being flown there. At least three of the survivors were reported seriously injured.

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, April 27 (AP)—Field dispatches from the Crimean front declared today that Soviet artillery, commanding every street in Sevastopol, is firing pointblank into the city and asserted that German attempts to hold out had definitely entered their last stage.

"The enemy still holds dead streets and squares," said the Army newspaper Red Star, "but Soviet guns have reached the Germans and Romanians in their last shell-ers."

It appeared that the Soviet High Command had decided to wipe out the enemy at any cost, even though it might mean the complete destruction of what still remains of battered Sevastopol.

The Red Star correspondent said the Germans still held airbases in the suburbs of the once-great naval base but that they had been rendered unusable. He declared that Soviet divebombers were cooperating with artillery in blasting the city.

The dispatch added that Russian troops had captured an important hill near the city on which the Germans had located eight artillery and four mortar batteries.

Blind Yank And British Bride On Way To America

London, April 27 (AP)—British government officials and American Army officers tossed all red tape aside to speed a blind American private and his English bride to the United States before the ban on travel from England became effective tonight.

Pvt. Otto Huttunen, 39, of Warren, Ohio, and 35 year old Ruby May are on their way home by plane in a style which neither ever anticipated—and the speedy trip cost neither of them a cent.

Their romance began in this way: Huttunen was blinded in North Africa by an explosion of an anti-personnel mine, and brought to a hospital in England for treatment.

While in the hospital he fell in love with his nurse, whom he had never seen, and she with him. But his troubles began when he started to plan to take her home with him.

For a time it looked as if it would be impossible to arrange transportation for the civilian wife. Then the British government announced its pre-invasion ban on travel from England—a further complication.

Lt. Edward Gilgan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was handling the arrangements, immediately got busy, and yesterday had Huttunen put aboard an Army transport plane with his bride as his official attendant.

DRAFT LEADERS HIT AT "OVER 37"

Washington, April 27 (AP)—In the absence of legislation to force 4-F's who are not now in essential war work to get into such jobs immediately, the Selective Service administration has started an extensive campaign to persuade men over 37 to "make a contribution" to the war effort.

The reference to making a contribution—a phrase which occurs repeatedly in new draft regulations—indicates the urging by Selective Service that the over-37's take up work in essential activity.

The inducement is occupational deferment rather than a classification either as 4-F—physically, mentally or morally unfit; 1-A-L—fit for limited service only—or, some class showing the man's age is 38-to-45 years, such as 1-A (HD).

Men already in 4-F or 1-A-L are entitled to occupational deferments if they apply for them and if they are "making a contribution."

The new program also applies to those in class 1-C—including men in the armed forces and men discharged for physical or mental disability.

War-important men who otherwise would be 4-F, 1-A-L, or 1-C will be classified in one of these groups:

2-A as making a contribution in support of the war effort;

2-B as making a contribution to war production;

2-C as making a contribution to agriculture.

Such classifications will be reviewed every six months.

SEDITION TRIAL HITS NEW SNAG

Washington, April 27 (AP)—The trial of 30 persons accused of seditious conspiracy ran into another delay today when James True, one of the defendants, failed to appear in federal district court because, his attorney said, he is "critically ill."

J. Austin Latimer, True's attorney, told Presiding Justice Edward C. Elcher that the aged defendant collapsed last night and that a physician was to examine him today to determine the nature of his illness. Elcher immediately directed that Dr. A. Magruder MacDonald, coroner, or one of his deputies also visit the True home and report as soon as possible. He then recessed court until noon.

The brief session also was marked by announcement of the dismissal of an attorney for Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling of Chicago, one of the defendants, "to save expense."

The attorney, Ode L. Rankin of Chicago, told the court he was withdrawing from the case, and Mrs. Dilling handed reporters a statement headed "why I dismissed my attorney."

Stimson Sees More "Leaps" In Pacific

Washington, April 27 (AP)—The pattern for future drives against Japan has been set by the long leapfrog up a New Guinea coast and the complete cooperation of ground, sea and air forces, Secretary of War Stimson said today.

Then, at his weekly press conference, he added:

"There is evidence that future hops can be even longer than those we have thus far taken."

"The landings of American infantrymen at Hollandia, in conjunction with those at Aitape, should raise a well-deserved alarm in the minds of the Japanese," the secretary said.

No doubt, Stimson said, Tokyo is fully aware that the pattern, set in New Guinea in the light of mounting Allied strength threatens the Japanese empire and endangers the home islands.

Former Director Of State C.C. Dies

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Our Uncle Sam, having expressed dissatisfaction with Sweden's rejection of the Allied request to stop sending ball bearings — vital war material — to Germany, has had his coat-tails stepped on by the Stockholm Aftonbladet, one of Sweden's big newspapers.

Aftonbladet asserts that Britain merely supported the request and that Russia "was the last to say anything." The paper then voices surprise that the note "came from a nation which among the Allies has done the least in the war" and that means us.

Well, that's blunt language, but frankness can be employed between friendly peoples like the Swedes and Americans. Aftonbladet's appraisal invites two important questions: 1. What justification is there for the Allied request? 2. By what standard do we measure the worth of war contribution?

Sweden's Problem

First off, we can readily understand the difficulties of Sweden's position. Ever since the war started she has been sitting under Nazi-dom's big guns, in constant danger of attack. The bulk of her essential foreign imports come from Germany, and for this there has had to be a quid pro quo. Sweden is indeed lucky in being able to maintain neutrality and independence.

Having admitted this we come to the present Allied viewpoint. The Allies have recognized Sweden's troubles and up until now haven't made embarrassing requests. They conceded that she wasn't prepared to stand up against Hitler's military might without aid, and they couldn't give adequate help.

Now, however, the picture has changed. The Fuehrer already is a beaten man. It only remains to be seen how long he can hang on by the skin of his teeth. We are about to enter the crucial final stretch of the conflict, and most experts agree with our Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States Navy, that victory over Germany is possible this year.

Can Get Allied Aid

At long last we are able to give Sweden ample aid if she is attacked by Germany. The same is true of other neutrals. On that basis the Allies feel that those who don't line up with them are against them. They know that Sweden in her heart stands for the justice of the United Nations' cause. Therefore they ask her to stop rendering vital aid to the Reich and prolonging the war as we plunge into armageddon.

And now for the claim that America has done the least among the big three. Do we measure the contribution in blood? If so we must admit that both Russia and the casualties have had far greater casualties than the United States, which hasn't been in the war so long.

How Much Help?

Do we gauge it by the lease-lend program under which we already have sent $22,500,000,000 to our Allies? Do we judge by Marshal Stalin's little toast during the Teheran conference that "without American production the United Nations could never have won the war?" Do we figure it on the basis of the titanic war machine we've created — a machine which among other things will give us a Navy equal to that of all other nations by the end of the year — a machine which is about to swing into top gear with a vast expenditure in lives?

None of these things, it strikes me, gives a correct measure. I think the only true gauge of war contribution is the will of a nation to give everything it has, in total co-operation with its Allies, to achieve victory. If each ally does its best, then its contribution is the equal of those of the other partners — no greater, no less.

SGT. NICKOLLS GETS CITATION

Master Sergeant Edward Nickolls, husband of Mrs. Virginia M. (Nuss) Nickolls, 423 Baltimore street, has been awarded a special letter of commendation by Col. Milton W. Arnold, Air Corps commanding officer at the local man's post somewhere in England. The letter is in recognition of the completion of 25 combat missions.

The letter follows: "You are to be commended highly for your splendid leadership ability as Flight Chief in aiding the crew which so ably maintained aircraft No. 42-40370 in its successful completion of 25 combat missions without aborting."

"By your ability to supervise and instruct personnel in the proper maintenance of aircraft, you have contributed greatly to this accomplishment. Your excellent spirit and will to work is reflected in the men under you."

Completed 55 Missions

"Under the conditions which prevail in the European theater of operations, it is not an easy task for an aircraft to achieve this record. You have aptly shown in your splendid work that adverse conditions are no deterrent if the proper spirit prevails."

The aircraft referred to in the letter which has been sent to Mrs. Nickolls is called "Heaven Can Wait" and is described as the last of the famous old Liberators that took part in the Ploesti and Weimer-Neustadt raids that are bowing out of the combat picture. The log of this B-24 tells a story that few ships can match. The plane is now being used as a training ship.

"Heaven Can Wait" has 55 bombing missions to its credit in three theaters—Middle East, the African theater and the European theaters. Nickolls has been in the service for two years. He has been overseas since July, 1943, and now is stationed somewhere in England.

Publishers Criticize WLB Mediation Setup

New York, April 27 (AP)—The War Labor board arbitration machinery was criticized today by the special standing committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Association as dominated by "outsiders" whose findings "are indiscriminate and frequently unjust."

"It is a well-known fact that government procedures result in having perfume manufacturers sitting on panels to represent meat packers, while an airplane builder is apt to be called upon for consultation in matters that involve the operation of wholesale groceries," the committee reported.

The report was issued as the ANPA meeting went into its third and final day.

Election of officers, a study of the relation of radio and newspapers, and addresses tonight by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Eric A. Johnston, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will complete the program.

LAKE STEAMER SINKS IN ERIE; 10 SEAMEN LOST

Cleveland, April 27 (AP)—Two ship collisions occurred in a heavy fog which swept over Lake Erie at Dawn today, resulting in the loss of 10 seamen and two lake freight carriers.

The James H. Reed, operated by Pickands Mather lines for the Interlake Steamship Company, of Cleveland sank about 40 miles north of Erie, Pa., after colliding with the steamer Ashcroft, operated by Canadian Steamship Lines, Ltd., of Montreal.

Second Collision

The crewmen from the Reed were feared lost, and 26 survivors were taken aboard the Ashcroft which headed for Erie.

The Columbia Transit Company's steamer Frank Vigor, was reported sunk in Pelee passage of western Lake Erie at about the same time, 5:30 a. m. (Central Warming), after colliding with the steamer Phillip Minch, owned by the Kinsman Transit Company.

All members of the Vigor's crew were transferred to the Minch and there were no injured, the Coast Guard reported.

Three Are Injured

The Reed a 448-foot freighter built in 1903 was enroute from Escanaba, Mich., to Buffalo, N. Y., with a load of iron ore, and the Ashcroft was enroute from Buffalo to Toledo, Ohio, to take on a load of coal.

The Vigor was a 6,000-ton, 412-foot steel ship, traveling from Chicago to Buffalo with a load of sulphur. Coast Guard officials said 26 survivors of the Reed were enroute to Erie, Pa., and that Coast Guard medical officers from Cleveland were being flown there. At least three of the survivors were reported seriously injured.

5,000 RALLY TO MEET CHILDERS

Broken Arrow, Okla., April 27 (AP)—The home folks who rallied 'round 5,000 strong to welcome Lt. Ernest Childers home from the war know now why the Creek-Cherokee Indian was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for distinguished service on the Anzio beach-head.

He described it for them himself yesterday and if they aren't entirely clear on the details it's because his speech didn't cover all of them.

The text of his address on that subject was: "I worked my way to a German fox hole and executed an operation." (End of the text.)

The home folks knew more than that about their hero's citation before he arrived yesterday morning because news dispatches had said he dragged himself from a field hospital and led an eight-man squad against machine gun nests, one of which he wiped out single-handed, killed two snipers and captured an enemy mortar observer.

Cowboys and cowgirls rode in from the plains, cotton farmers traveled long distances in mule-drawn wagons to pack the main street of this little settlement which declared a holiday in Lt. Childers' honor. The school and business houses were closed for the day. State and military dignitaries were among the celebrants.

Lt. Childers, on a 21-day furlough plans to remain at the farm of his step-brother, George, 12 miles north of here during most of his leave. After that he will again be on assignment by the War Department.

FURTHER CUTS IN OCS PLANNED

Washington, April 27 (AP)—A further reduction in the number of officer candidate schools was announced today by Secretary of War Stimson as a result of diminishing Army requirements for junior officers.

Of the original 26 schools in the United States, not more than 11 will be in operation by fall, said Stimson, while of the four schools established overseas, that in Australia is the only one now functioning.

The Armored Command OCS at Ft. Knox, Kentucky, will enroll its last class May 29, and will be closed when that class is graduated next September 23. Three other schools already have enrolled their last classes—The Chemical Warfare OCS, Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, will close July 8, the Military Police OCS, Ft. Custer, Michigan, June 27, and the Anti-Aircraft Artillery OCS, Camp Davis, North Carolina, June 15.

The peak of the officer training program was reached in December 1942, when 23,000 graduates received commissions. The number has dropped steadily to the present rate of fewer than 2,500 graduates a month from all schools.

Mustering Out Payments Rise

Washington, April 27 (AP)—In the first 12 weeks of the new mustering out payment law, the Army has paid $653,800 to 3,345 honorably discharged personnel or their survivors, War Secretary Stimson announced today.

As of April 25, 279 men and women had received the maximum $300 payment, authorized for those with overseas service; 2,594 had been paid the $200 authorized for those with more than 60 days' service, all within the United States, and 178 had been paid the $100 authorized for personnel with less than 60 days' service.

BLOZIS, HARRIS RULED OUT OF PENN RELAYS

By WALTON CLOKE
Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania's relay carnival stands a chance of losing two stars from the nebula surrounding its 50th annual program tomorrow and Saturday if Pvt. Al Blozis and Aviation Cadet Archie Harris, whose eligibility is questioned by the Amateur Athletic Union, are barred from competition.

Blozis and Harris, both former college weight stars from Georgetown and Indiana, are "ineligible to compete because of their pre-war professional status," Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, said in New York last night.

Ferris stated that when he heard Harris, former Ocean City, N. J. athlete now stationed at Muskegee, Ala., was entered in the meet this week-end, he telegraphed H. Jamison Swarts, relays director, to "straighten him out" on the matter and that he assumed both athletes would be dropped from the meet.

Meeting Today
Swarts said he received Ferris' telegram but had "no comment to make" until relays officials meet here sometime today "to decide on a course of action."

Under wartime rules soldiers are eligible to compete in college events at the relays, Ferris said, but added the two weight men were ineligible because Harris, a discus star at Indiana, was a coach before entering the Army and Blozis, who holds the world and carnival shotput records, played professional football with the New York Giants.

An agreement between AAU and Army officials allows soldiers to compete in informal team games or in closed Army competition without regard to their amateur or professional status but does not apply, however, to individual professionals competing individually against amateurs, Ferris explained.

He said the telegram was sent merely to advise Swarts concerning the status of the two athletes as he assumed the relays director didn't know the entire situation.

HIGH TRACKMEN FACE CARLISLE

Gettysburg high school's track and field team will go after its second straight triumph when it meets Carlisle high in a dual meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Carlisle.

Coach Mel Dry today announced one change in his list of starters for the coming meet. Sterritt Dorsey, who missed last week's meet due to a bruised heel, will replace John Schwartz in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

The Maroon mentor also announced that his team in the mile relay event will be composed of Raffensperger, Altomose, Moyer and March.

Last week Carlisle dropped a meet to Hanover high, Hoffman taking the only first place for the losers by winning the mile event.

Friday's engagement will be the final tune-up for Gettysburg prior to the annual South Penn conference meet which will be held under the lights at Waynesboro Friday evening, May 5.

Skytracer Improves Rating For Derby

Louisville, Ky., April 27 (AP)—Stir Up, the winter book favorite of Greentree Stables, again may find Skytracer, whom he had a hard time beating in Florida, a formidable rival in the May 6 Kentucky Derby.

Skytracer sent his stock soaring yesterday with a three-length victory over Challenge Me, Arkansas Derby winner, in the $10,000 added Blue Grass Stakes at Churchill Downs.

Eight Derby eligibles ran in the Blue Grass Stakes, but only the first four—Skytracer, Challenge Me and Stir Up—are expected to show up at the Derby starting gate.

Peralta To Meet Montgomery Friday

Chicago, April 27 (AP)—Joey Peralta, 26-year-old Mexican lightweight boxer, is hoping that he can settle an old score with Bob Montgomery when they meet in a 10-round bout tomorrow night.

In two previous meetings Montgomery, currently recognized as lightweight champion in New York-New Jersey-Pennsylvania, defeated the Tamaqua (Pa.) boxer.

Their bout will headline a boxing show at the Coliseum, the first to be held at the arena in more than two years.

DELIA FACES DRAFT

New York, April 27 (AP)—Freddie Sommers, manager of lightweight Mike Delia, said today Delia had left for California for an army physical examination, after having been classified 4-F in a previous test. Sommers said fights with Julie Kogan, May 8 at Holyoke, and with Freddie Dawson, May 15 at Detroit, would not be cancelled until Delia's new status is determined.

Jap Baseball Bat Carried Autograph

Wilmington, Del., April 27 (AP)—A Japanese baseball bat bearing the autograph of Paul Waner, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was "captured" during the American invasion of Namur Island in the Kwajalein Atoll, a Wilmington Marine said in a letter home.

Waner presumably autographed the bat when he and other American ball players toured Japan several years ago.

Corp. Charles E. Truitt, former Wilmington athlete, wrote Ben Greenstein, sports editor of the Wilmington Journal-Evening, that "it is a little battle-scarred and during the attack was used for a different purpose than lacing a horsehide."

Truitt is sending the bat to Greenstein, who said it will be given to Waner with the suggestion that it be auctioned during the Fifth War Loan campaign.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, April 27 (AP)—Ever hear of an all-star baseball team made up entirely of pitchers? . . . No. It takes a guy like Ernie Lanigan to figure out one like that. . . . Here they are, in their regular positions, and all guys who pitched in the majors at one time: Outfield—Turkey Mike Donlin, Babe Ruth and James J. Callahan; first base—Dan Brouthers, second base—Kid Gleason, third base—Rhody Wallace, shortstop—John Montgomery Ward, catcher—Roger Bresnahan, pitcher—take your pick, but how about old Tony Mullane, who passed away yesterday? . . . Mullane not only was big league baseball's only ambidextrous pitcher, but one of 13 who won 300 games.

PRACTICAL ATTITUDE
Fight fans at the Broadway arena Monday night were all excited when one preliminary boy punched another all over the ring and finally flattened him in the third round. . . . But Nat Rogers, Mike Jacobs' matchmaker, didn't seem to share their enthusiasm. . . . He just sat by the ringside when a beachcomber rushed up and asked: "There's a swell scrapper, ain't he, Nat? . . . 'Yeh,' crunted Rogers, 'but he's a soldier, so what good is he to anyone?'"

SHORTS AND SHELLS

BROWNS SNARE 7TH STRAIGHT, TYING RECORD

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
At the rate those unbeaten St. Louis Browns are going they're likely to finish second in the American league. Nobody's out in front of them or even close behind, but old man precedent says they can't win the pennant.

When the Browns stopped Cleveland, 5-2 yesterday they tied the Yankees' 1933 league record for most consecutive games won at the start of a season, with seven. However, the New Yorkers of that happy April eleven years ago wound up seven games behind Washington in October.

Hank Borowy also joined the ranks of two-time winners as the Yankees squared the series with Philadelphia, 6-2. He now has won nine successive league games since last August 10 in addition to one world series and two exhibition triumphs. Hank allowed 11 hits, but Nick Etten thumped the A's into submission with a two-run homer, a double and single.

Wynn Wins Again
Early Wynn and Gil Torres took the boys in Washington's 2-1 edge over Boston. Wynn allowed only six hits, all singles, in hanging up win No. 2 and Torres, the Cuban third baseman, rapped out a double and single, driving in both runs scored off Yank Terry.

Bucky Walters knows now that Cincinnati can score but he might have been inclined to doubt it after pitching 21 innings over a two-game stretch during which the Reds did not cross home plate. Frankie McCormick finally broke it up with a 13th inning home run giving Cincinnati and Walters a 1-0 nod over rookie Alvin Jurisich of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Vince DiMaggio kept the old family name in the headlines by collecting a home run with two men on and a double in Pittsburgh's 6-1 pummeling of Chicago. Preacher Roe coasted in with a seven-inning after a five-run Pirate spurt in the sixth.

Detroit-Chicago in the American and Brooklyn-Boston in the National were postponed because of cold and rain. The Giants and Phils were not scheduled.

AAU Arranges 11 Track, Field Events

New York, April 27 (AP)—With the idea of providing as much competition as possible for service men, the Amateur Athletic Union and its member clubs have arranged a schedule of eleven outdoor track and field meets during the next three months. Another is definitely scheduled for New Haven, Conn., in August and several more are contemplated.

In addition to National and sectional A.A.U. championships, the schedule includes the town-down club meet at Washington, May 20, the Grover Cleveland and New York A. C. meets in New York in June and meets at Passaic, N. J., Buffalo and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

TWIRLER SEES RETURN IN 1945

Chicago, April 27 (AP)—"Will be back with you before the 1945 season gets far under way."

That's what Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians' wonder boy pre-war pitcher and now a chief specialist in the Navy, says in a letter to Lew Fonseca, American league motion picture director.

Feller, who entered the Navy four days after Pearl Harbor, isn't finding much time for baseball, he told Fonseca, but he pitched his Navy team to a fleet baseball pennant last Christmas.

"Operations are beyond the scene of athletic activity now," wrote the 25-year-old Van Meter, Iowa, pitcher who won 107 games for Cleveland from late in 1936 until the close of the '41 campaign. He is serving in an anti-aircraft gun unit aboard one of Uncle Sam's battleships.

Anxious to Play

Bullet Bob, the letter indicated, is anxious to return and get back into the baseball campaign when his present job is over. "It's quite difficult to remain in condition, as continuous operations keep us on our toes and sleep is about all we have time for now. We have played many exhibition games around the globe."

Feller, who wants to borrow the American league's 1943 baseball movie for his service buddies, told Fonseca that "it will be shown on board ship to 75 or 100,000 young men" who would "nearly eat it up." He stressed the fact that no other entertainment is available—"not even a shore to walk around on while in port."

SEIZE LOTTERY TICKETS

Scranton, Pa., April 27 (AP)—State and city police arrested four men and confiscated between 6,000 and 7,000 treasury balance lottery tickets yesterday. The men, all charged with promoting a lottery, identified themselves: Harry Cohen, 36, Philadelphia; Dominick J. Panierelloc, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Cyrus E. Krall, 40, Reading, and Louis Martin Yerger, 48, Williamsport.

German Raider Hits London Bomb Shelter

London, April 27 (AP)—A number of persons were killed last night when a German raider's high explosive bomb hit the underground shelter in which about 60 adults and children had sought haven at a south coast town.

Bombs fell in a tenement district, smashing a mission hall and several taverns. The town cannot be named. The German radio said Portsmouth was subjected to a sharp attack.

Explosion Rocks Invasion Coast

London, April 27 (AP)—A terrific explosion on the French coast— from the same direction as others heard in recent days—rocked Deal and other British towns along Dover strait today, suggesting the Germans were doing an 11th hour rush order blasting job for their west wall defenses.

A deep, rumbling noise preceded the blast. The ground shuddered, houses rocked, doors were sprung and locks flew open.

The explosion might have been part of the Allied night aerial attack, but coastal residents said that if so it must have been a super-colossal blockbuster.

The explosion was preceded by a half hour of gunfire out in the strait, possibly indicating another naval skirmish.

Higher Pay For Ministers Urged

Shamokin, Pa., April 27 (AP)—An increase in salaries for ministers of the eastern Pennsylvania conferences of Evangelical churches has been urged by Dr. E. E. Stauffer, of Reading, in a report of district superintendents to the 105th annual meeting of the conference.

Dr. Stauffer said conference ministers have received only an average six per cent increase in recent years. He also announced the withdrawal of seven ministers from the conference. They are Rev. C. N. Wolfe, Reading; Rev. E. B. Sunday, Sunbury; Rev. A. P. Albright, Philadelphia; Rev. I. J. Bobst, Philadelphia; Rev. Irvin Batdorf, Matamoras, and Rev. C. C. Hoffman, Phoenixville.

Bishop John S. Stamm, of Harrisburg, preached the sermon at the Communion service which opened the conference yesterday.

CITES TB DEATH RATE FIGURES

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—The Pennsylvania conference of tuberculosis secretaries was told today by J. Kenneth Winter, president of the conference, "the tuberculosis death rate among unskilled workers in industry and their families is nearly eight times that of executives, professional and business men and their families."

Speaking at the first meeting of the conference here in advance of the convention of the Pennsylvania tuberculosis society tomorrow, Winter also said "every factory owner and superintendent, every employer and employee is vitally interested in chest X-ray examinations for the discovery of early and unknown causes of tuberculosis among working men and women."

He added X-ray tests of over 20,000 workers in Erie disclosed 400 cases of re-infection tuberculosis and over 1,000 cases of primary tuberculosis during the last year.

Wynn Wins Again
Early Wynn and Gil Torres took the bows in Washington's 2-1 edge over Boston. Wynn allowed only six hits, all singles, in hanging up win No. 2, and Torres, the Cuban third baseman, rapped out a double and single, driving in both runs scored off Yank Terry.

Bucky Walters knows now that Cincinnati can score but he might have been inclined to doubt it after pitching 21 innings over a two-game stretch during which the Reds did not cross home plate. Frankie McCormick finally broke it up with a 13th inning home run giving Cincinnati and Walters a 1-0 nod over rookie Alvin Jurisch of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Vince DiMaggio kept the old family name in the headlines by collecting a home run with two men on and a double in Pittsburgh's 6-1 pummeling of Chicago. Preacher Roe coasted in with a seven-hitter after a five-run Pirate spurt in the sixth.

Detroit-Chicago in the American and Brooklyn-Boston in the National were postponed because of cold and rain. The Giants and Phils were not scheduled.

Twirler Sees Return in 1945

Chicago, April 27 (AP)—"Will be back with you before the 1945 season gets far under way."

That's what Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians' wonder boy pre-war pitcher and now a chief specialist in the Navy, says in a letter to Lew Fonseca, American league motion picture director.

Feller, who entered the Navy four days after Pearl Harbor, isn't finding much time for baseball, he told Fonseca, but he pitched his Navy team to a fleet baseball pennant last Christmas.

"Operations are beyond the scene of athletic activity now," wrote the 25-year-old Van Meter, Iowa, pitcher who won 107 games for Cleveland from late in 1936 until the close of the '41 campaign. He is serving in an anti-aircraft gun unit aboard one of Uncle Sam's battleships.

Anxious to Play

Bullet Bob, the letter indicated, is anxious to return and get back into the baseball campaign when his present job is over. "It's quite difficult to remain in condition, as continuous operations keep us on our toes and sleep is about all we have time for now. We have played many exhibition games around the globe."

Feller, who wants to borrow the American league's 1943 baseball movie for his service buddies, told Fonseca that "it will be shown on board ship to 75 or 100,000 young men" who would "nearly eat it up."

He stressed the fact that no other entertainment is available—"not even a shore to walk around on while in port."

Cage Center Held For Manslaughter

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Thomas Joseph Clarke, 22, star center on the St. Joseph's College basketball team was under arrest today charged with manslaughter and larceny of an automobile as the driver of a stolen car which killed a woman and injured four other persons last Sunday.

Detective Lieutenant Joseph Summerville said Clarke denied he was involved in an accident.

Mrs. Layton was hurled through the windshield of her car by a collision and died a short time later in a hospital. Her two children, Margaret, 9, and Charles, 14, were severely cut. Two sisters-in-law also were injured.

German Raider Hits London Bomb Shelter

London, April 27 (AP)—A number of persons were killed last night when a German raider's high explosive bomb hit the underground shelter in which about 60 adults and children had sought haven at a south coast town.

Bombs fell in a tenement district, smashing a mission hall and several taverns. The town cannot be named. The German radio said Portsmouth was subjected to a sharp attack.

HUMAN HURTS

No person ever born upon this earth has been free from being misunderstood and misinterpreted. If every human being was constituted the same, as to thoughts and ideas, then we would all understand each other perfectly, and there would never be an occasion for anyone to be hurt in feeling or in heart. I came across this statement from William James in my reading and it stated this train of thought. Said James: "Properly speaking, a man has as many social selves as there are individuals who recognize him and carry an image of him in their mind. To wound any one of these his image is to wound him." There you have it. We are woven together like a piece of fabric—but every thread is in a sense different, merely being a part of the whole. To break any single thread in this loom is to disturb the completed whole. When we hurt another that hurt reflects back to us.

For this reason we resent the act of injury to a friend of ours as though it were made direct upon us. Our own image has been insulted or wounded. For this same reason, as well, war becomes one of the most diabolical of crimes against human life. We fight our images—we, poor, misled and ignorant creatures, formed in the image of God!

When Christ stood before Pilate—saying not a word—this ruler saw in the humble figure before him an image of himself, and so exclaimed: "I can see no wrong in this man."

Character alone is able to exalt itself in this imperfect arrangement of human life. For this reason I see the great importance of just Judges placed upon the benches of our courts. Men keen and careful in their interpretations, and in their insight to human character. Men who can look into faces, faces and hearts, as though they were transparent—seeing in each a reflection of their own selves.

With a clarified insight we would all be most careful—lightly judge and gently speak."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Imprints in Books"

Father Of Woman Held For Killing Commits Suicide

Wildwood, N. J., April 27 (AP)—

The body of Edward S. Hatzfeld, 65, formerly of Philadelphia, was found hanging early today by a cord from the rafters of an oceanfront boardwalk pavilion.

Patrolman Louis Frocco said Hatzfeld had notes in his pockets asking police to notify a lawyer and several friends in Philadelphia of his death and to summon a Philadelphia undertaker. A $10 bill was pinned to one of the notes with instructions that it was to cover telephone expense of the police, the patrolman said.

Hatzfeld had been residing here since February.

He was the father of Mrs. Helen Wucherer, of Erdenheim, Pa., who was convicted in Norristown, Pa., March 10 of murder in the second degree in the shooting of her husband, August 51, a real estate operator and former school teacher. Mrs. Wucherer is in jail pending appeal.

Grief stricken, Hatzfeld collapsed when he viewed Wucherer's body after the killing last October 31.

MARTIN URGES SLIGHT RAISE IN OIL PRICES

Bradford, Pa., April 27 (AP)—Gov. Edward Martin today advocated a flat increase of 50 cents a barrel in the cost of oil "to stimulate production and keep the industry healthy by insuring necessary profits and good wages to employees."

In an address prepared for delivery before the Independent Petroleum Association here, he also attacked the proposed Arabian pipe line, terming it a project that "may easily lead us into a third world war, besides costing the American taxpayers not less than $160,000,000."

Cites Profit Motive

Citing profit as the incentive for men to develop new fields of production and to increase output of old fields, he declared:

"An increase of 50 cents per barrel would add no more than $700,000,000 yearly to American production costs.

New fields must be found year after year. Old ones must be continuously developed. In the Pennsylvania fields, for example, methods must be found to recover a greater percentage of oil from the sands.

Subsidies Not Sound

"We need improved techniques in the development of new oil reserves and in production of fields now in operation. We must depend upon private enterprise for our production subsidies for oil or any other commodity. It is not sound governmental policy. It may be necessary in a grave emergency but only in such an emergency.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Silas Clay Gets Mad at Women's Hats

Silas Clay is complaining that his wife's new hat cost more than a bull calf. "And I wouldn't mind it, if it was a hat," he says, "but all it is, is a small bow and a piece of feather."

"It isn't the size of the hat that counts," says Blvon Earp, reproachfully.

"Well, what is it that counts?" asks St, exasperated.

"I'll tell you what it is that counts," says Doc. "It's the hat that a new hat gives to any woman. It sort of picks up their spirits... boosts morale. Little things can do that. Like the flower in your buttonhole," he says to Silas, "or that glass of beer that you're enjoying."

From where I sit, Doc has given us a mighty good definition of morale. Important little things. A flower in your buttonhole... a kind word from a stranger... a mellow glass of beer with friends. Little things especially important in these days of strain.

Said James: "Properly speaking, a man has as many social selves as there are individuals who recognize him, and carry an image of him in their mind. To wound any one of these his image is to wound him."

There you have it. We are woven together like a piece of fabric—but every thread is in a sense different, merely being a part of the whole. To break any single thread in this loom is to disturb the completed whole. When we hurt another that hurt reflects back to us.

For this reason we resent the act of injury to a friend of ours as though it were made direct upon us. Our own image has been insulted or wounded. For this same reason, as well, war becomes one of the most diabolical of crimes against human life. We fight our images—we, poor, misled and ignorant creatures, formed in the image of God!

When Christ stood before Pilate—saying not a word—this ruler saw in the humble figure before him an image of himself, and so exclaimed: "I can see no wrong in this man."

Character alone is able to exalt itself in this imperfect arrangement of human life. For this reason I see the great importance of just Judges placed upon the benches of our courts. Men keen and careful in their interpretations, and in their insight to human character. Men who can look into facts, faces, and hearts, as though they were transparent—seeing in each a reflection of their own selves.

With a clarified insight we would all be most careful—"lightly judge, and gently speak."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Imprints in Books."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Myers Leading Law by 23 Votes.—High spots of Tuesday's Spring primary in Adams county are: Passage of the $45,000 road bond issue in Mt. Pleasant township.

Nomination of Grover C. Myers, incumbent, of Gardner, over Elmer B. Lau, East Berlin, for State Assemblyman.

Nomination of I. S. Brumgard, Littlestown, over S. H. Weaver, McSherrytown, for Democratic State committeeman.

Support of the revised Republican organization slate, giving Ralph Beaver Strassburger a substantial majority over Clifford Pinchot for one of the seven delegate-at-large positions in the Republican National convention.

One of the most gratifying results for Democratic voters of Adams county was the united support given Charles B. Dougherty, Hanover street, in York and Adams counties in his contest for one of the two places from the 22nd Congressional district to the Democratic National convention.

Town Man Weds County Girl

The Old Jesuit Mission at Buchanan Valley was the scene Tuesday morning of a quiet wedding when Miss Martha M. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Moore, of New Oxford, was married to James A. Oyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Oyler, East Middle street, Gettysburg. The nuptial mass, which was celebrated by the Rev. Will W. Whalen, was held at 7:30 o'clock.

The bridegroom is a member of the firm of Clapsaddle and Oyler, whose concrete block plant is located on the Baltimore pike.

The bride and bridegroom were attended by a newly-married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Plus I. Smith, New Oxford.

Mr. and Mrs. Oyler will make their home in an apartment at 131 East Middle street.

Number of Tourists Crowd Local Hotels.—Gettysburg, in spite of the threatening and cool weather of Sunday, experienced the largest stream of Easter tourists for a number of years, according to hotel and restaurant men.

Neils Gron, Graduate of College, Is Dead.—Neils L. O. Gron, Danish politician, graduate of Gettysburg college and member of the local order of Odd Fellows, died at Copenhagen, Denmark, Friday night. Mr. Gron graduated from Gettysburg college with the class of 1893. Mr. Gron was at one time Danish consul at London.

"The Forty 'N Eight" to Organize.—"The forty 'N Eight," a side degree of the American Legion, will be organized in Gettysburg Monday evening, at the American Legion home on York street. It is sponsored by Ralph Lischy.

Announce Wedding.—Miss Catherine S. Shields and Albert P. Shealer, both of Gettysburg, were married Thursday, April 17, in Hagerstown, Maryland, at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church, by the Rev. V. A. Lonier, pastor. They will reside at the Shealer home on the Hunterstown road.

Sermon to Mark 105th Birthday of Odd Fellows.—In commemoration of the one hundred and fifth anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into the United States, a sermon will be preached to Gettys Lodge, No. 124, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in the Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday, April 27, by the Rev. Harry Daniels. Special music will be given by the Rebekahs and members of the lodge.

Marriage Announced.—Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham, of Fairfield, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Stewart Wightwick, of New York city, on April 17.

Local Eagles Burn Mortgage.—George H. Strine, deputy national organizer of York, was the principal speaker before the annual banquet of the Gettysburg Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, when the mortgage on the home occupied by the order on Chambersburg street was burned.

James B. Aumen, secretary of the local Aerie, burned the mortgage paper before the eyes of the members of the lodge.

Hospital Report.—A daughter was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. James Riley, Gettysburg R. 6.

New York Saves Day.—(By Associated Press) New York, April 26.—Daylight saving, made operative in New York city by a municipal ordinance, will become effective at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning and will continue in effect until September 28.

Personal.—At the food sale which was held recently in the Eckert building, Center Square by the Woman's League of Gettysburg college, about $50 was received.

Tank Cars Blaze After Wreck

Tank cars blaze after some 35 cars of a 76-car train were derailed near Central Bridge, N. Y., and 20 of the oil cars burned. No one was injured, and officials of the Delaware & Hudson railroad said the cause of the wreck was undetermined.

Father Of Woman Held For Killing Commits Suicide

Wildwood, N. J., April 27 (AP).—

The body of Edward S. Hatzfeld, 65, formerly of Philadelphia, was found hanging early today by a cord from the rafters of an oceanfront boardwalk pavilion.

Patrolman Louis Fiocco said Hatzfeld had notes in his pockets asking police to notify a lawyer and several friends in Philadelphia of his death and to summon a Philadelphia undertaker. A $10 bill was pinned to one of the notes with instructions that it was to cover telephone expense of the police, the patrolman said.

Hatzfeld had been residing here since February.

He was the father of Mrs. Helen Wucherer, of Erdensheim, Pa., who was convicted in Norristown, Pa., March 10 of murder in the second degree in the shooting of her husband, August, 51, a real estate operator and former school teacher. Mrs. Wucherer is in jail pending appeal.

Grief stricken, Hatzfeld collapsed when he viewed Wucherer's body after the killing last October 31.

Magnesium, important war metal, was isolated more than 100 years ago.

MARTIN URGES SLIGHT RAISE IN OIL PRICES

Bradford, Pa., April 27 (AP).—Gov. Edward Martin today advocated a flat increase of 50 cents a barrel in the cost of oil "to stimulate production and keep the industry healthy by insuring necessary profits and good wages to employees."

In an address prepared for delivery before the Independent Petroleum Association here, he also attacked the proposed Arabian pipe line, terming it a project that "may easily lead us into a third world war, besides costing the American taxpayers not less than $160,000,000."

Citing Profit Motive

"An increase of 50 cents per barrel would add no more than $700,000,000 yearly to American production costs."

"New fields must be found year after year. Old ones must be continuously developed. In the Pennsylvania fields, for example, methods must be found to recover a greater percentage of oil from the sands.

Subsidies Not Sound

"We need improved techniques in the development of new oil reserves and in production of fields now in operation. We must depend upon private enterprise for our production. Subsidies for oil or any other commodity is not sound governmental policy. It may be necessary in a grave emergency but only in such an emergency."

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent urination, passages with smarting and burning sensation shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills, and will be in the future. It takes 80 times as much gasoline in this war as it did in World War I. Including gasoline, 50,000,000 gallons of oil products go to the fighting forces every day."

Taking cognizance of the fact that the meeting here today was within a few short miles of Drake's discovery well near Titusville, he said this achievement did more revolutionize the world than any other single discovery," adding: "Not since the discovery of gunpowder had anything so greatly changed the very face of warfare."

During World War I, farm income doubled, reaching 17 billion dollars, even though the armed forces and war industries took more than a million men from farms.

Silas Clay Gets Mad at Women's Hats

Silas Clay is complaining that his wife's new hat cost more than a bull calf. "And I wouldn't mind it, if it was a hat," he says, "but all it is, is a small bow and a piece of feather."

"It isn't the size of the hat that counts," says Bivon Earp, reproachfully.

"Well, what is it that counts?" asks Sil, exasperated.

"I'll tell you what it is that counts," says Doc. "It's the lift that a new hat gives to any woman. It sort of picks up their spirits... boosts morale. Little things can do that. Like the flower in your buttonhole," he says to Silas, "or that glass of beer that you're enjoying."

From where I sit, Doc has given us a mighty good definition of morale. Important little things. A flower in your buttonhole... a kind word from a stranger... a mellow glass of beer with friends. Little things especially important in these days of strain.

MAJOR BATTLE IS IMMINENT IN KOHIMA SECTOR

By THOBURN WIAWT
Southeast Asia Headquarters.

Kandy, Ceylon, April 27 (AP)—A major battle appeared imminent
today as Allied reinforcements
streamed into Kohima, the gateway hill town guarding the valley entrance into the plains of Assam.

The garrison of Kohima could be seen below by Japanese scattered in the nearby hills, and the reinforcements rolled forward from Manipur
under the eyes of the enemy perched in hilltop fortifications.

One of the enemy's strongest points was Kohima village, about a mile west of the main town. Into this the British poured artillery fire.

Tanks Sent In

Kohima, 60 miles north of Imphal,
the military storehouse of the Manipur valley, and two-thirds the distance between that town and Manipur, the important operating center on the Bengal-Assam supply line,
promised to be an incredible battlefield, with the men fighting both on the dense jungle valley floor and 6,000 feet above sea level, with the snowcapped Himalayas in the distance.

The Kohima garrison recently received tanks to help expand its perimeter, and these circled the town's outskirts, battering at Japanese bunkers with their heavy guns
and shooting snipers from the chimneys of houses.

The steepness of the hills to be assaulted and the bottlenecks opening into Japanese strongholds, with narrow spaces afforded for the deployment of the attacking forces, presented many difficulties for the British.

Stiwell Advances
In North Burma, Lt. Gen. Joseph
W. Stilwell's Chinese scored a spectacular success in the advance down
the Mogaung valley with the capture of the village of Manpin, 10
miles north of Kamaing, southeast Asia headquarters announced.

The sudden success seemed to indicate that Stilwell's men had broken the back of Japanese resistance which had delayed his offensive the first part of this month.
Stilwell's forces on the east side of the Mogaung valley apparently had gained six miles in the last 24 hours, because yesterday they were reported advancing on Warong, six miles northeast of Manpin.

Gets Medal He Won In Action In 1918

A U. S. Bomber Base in England, April 27 (AP)—It took 26 years for First Sgt. John D. Mullaney's Silver Star to catch up with him, but he has it now.

Mullaney, who lives in Somerville, Mass., was cited for gallantry in battle at Apremont, France, in 1918.
The medal arrived from the quartermaster's office in Philadelphia on the day before his 45th birthday.
April 13, the anniversary of the day his outfit broke through the German lines 26 years ago.

Mullaney has been in the Army for 19 years.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Harry W. Cluck, who passed away, one month ago today.

"I have lost my soul's companion.
A life linked with my own;
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone."

God saw the road was getting rough
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed his loving eyes
And whispered: "Peace be thine."

His weary hours, his days of pain,
His weary nights are past.
His over-patient, worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
By his devoted wife, Bertha

Hess Despondent On 50th Birthday

London, April 27 (AP)—Rudolf
Hess' birthday anniversary yesterday in this invasion year probably was the dreariest in all his 50 years
of life.

At the "camp" of the former Nazi party deputy leader—who staged his spectacular flight to England nearly three years ago—the roar of bombers can be heard every day, and as an airman, Hess knows what that means to the Reich.

When he first heard these daily
rumblings, Hess is said to have thought them a special, faked "show" staged
to impress him. Then when he realized the truth, the despondency
for which he already was being treated deepened.

RELAYS ENTRIES BARRED

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Pvt.
Al Blozis and Aviation Cadet Archie
Harris were barred today from the University of Pennsylvania's 50th annual relay carnival tomorrow and Saturday, Relays Director H. Jamison Swartz announced, because their entries violated an Army-Navy-AAU agreement freezing the status
of pre-war professional athletes.

Propose Seniority Rights For Veterans

Providence, R. I., April 27 (AP)—
A postwar plan to allow servicemen union seniority based on their terms
of military service is being proposed to both industry and union leaders
by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was announced last night by Carl Schoeninger of Detroit, Mich., national commander of the organization.

Schoeninger, in an interview, stated that he has conferred in New York with officials of the National Association of Manufacturers and
in Washington with leaders of one National labor organization. Both groups have indicated approval, he said.

SCHUYLKILL TO BE CLEANED OF POLLUTION; DUFF

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—James H. Duff, attorney general, believes action to rid the Schuylkill river of pollution "can no longer be put off."

Speaking at a conference called by the interstate commission on the Delaware river basin to discuss its plan for a $20,000,000 federal-state
program to clean up the Schuylkill, Duff asserted "the day of appeasement is gone."

"I think this plan agrees thoroughly with public thinking," he added. "In the great industrial state of Pennsylvania we should not be hostile toward industry but at the same time should get rid of silt."

Faces Threat

Chairman Ellwood J. Turner of
the interstate commission, told the conference of state and other conservancy agencies yesterday "we have reached the point in our national history at which the public is demanding greater consideration
of its rights in the matter of preventing and abating stream pollution."

"If we who are responsible or affected by existing conditions do not recognize and meet our respective responsibilities in correcting them,
then we will have certainly created one basic reason at least for the possible institution of an all-embracing federal program to accomplish the required objectives
for us. That is the threat, the danger of inaction on our part."

LOWER DEMAND FOR BABY CHICKS

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—
Pennsylvania's commercial baby chick hatcheries will close from four to six weeks earlier this year
due to increased demand for chicks
by farmers throughout the state,
it was revealed today by the department of agriculture.

E. J. Lawless, Jr., in charge of the division of poultry and eggs in
the department's bureau of markets, said "the poultry industry in general will be benefitted through the earlier closings."

"Buyers of baby chicks have been extremely cautious in their orders
for deliveries from hatcheries because of the oversupply of eggs in recent months," he added.

The national output of hatchery

Drafted Arsenal Workers To Return To Jobs In Uniform

Dover, N. J., April 27 (AP)—Any key employees at Pletiny Arsenal under 26 years of age who are drafted will be put in uniform and sent back to their arsenal jobs.
Major Roger Barton, the public relations officer, announced yesterday.

More than 100 key men may be affected, he said.

Barton said that under the plan, effective immediately, the drafted men will continue to live at home and receive allowances for food and quarters and a scale of pay equal to that of other soldiers with similar ratings.

Barton said single men would receive $141.50 per month and married men with children $219.50, inclusive of subsistence and quarters allowances. He estimated the average arsenal worker now receives $45 a week.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Harry W. Cluck, who passed away, one month ago today.

"I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own;
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone.

God saw the road was getting
rough
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed his loving eyes
And whispered: "Peace be thine."

His weary hours, his days of pain,
His weary nights are past.
His ever-patient, worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last."

Hess Despondent
On 50th Birthday

London, April 27 (AP)—Rudolf
Hess' birthday anniversary yesterday in this invasion year probably was the dreariest in all his 50 years
of life.

At the "camp" of the former Nazi party deputy leader—who staged his spectacular flight to England nearly three years ago—the roar of bombers can be heard every day, and as an airman, Hess knows what that means to the Reich.

When he first heard these daily
rumblings, Hess is said to have thought
them a special, faked "show" staged
to impress him. Then when he realized the truth, the despondency
for which he already was being treated deepened.

RELAYS ENTRIES BARRED
Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Pvt.
Al Blizis and Aviation Cadet Archie
Harris were barred today from the University of Pennsylvania's 50th
annual relay carnival tomorrow and Saturday. Relays Director H. Jamison Swarts announced, because their entries violated an Army-Navy-
AAU agreement freezing the status
of pre-war professional athletes.

MAJOR BATTLE IS IMMINENT IN KOHIMA SECTOR

By THORBURN WIAAT

Southeast Asia Headquarters,
Kandy, Ceylon, April 27 (AP)—A
major battle appeared imminent
today as Allied reinforcements
streamed into Kohima, the gateway
hill town guarding the valley entrance into the plains of Assam.

The garrison of Kohima could be
seen below by Japanese scattered in
the nearby hills, and the reinforcements rolled forward from Manipur
under the eyes of the enemy perched
in hilltop fortifications.

One of the enemy's strongest points was Kohima village, about a mile west of the main town. Into this the British poured artillery fire.

Tanks Sent In

Kohima, 60 miles north of Imphal,
the military storehouse of the Mani-
pur valley, and two-thirds the distance between that town and Manipur, the important operating center
on the Bengal-Assam supply line,
promised to be an incredible battlefield, with the men fighting both on
the dense jungle valley floor and 6,000 feet above sea level, with the snowcapped Himalayas in the distance.

The Kohima garrison recently received tanks to help expand its perimeter, and these circled the town's outskirts, battering at Japanese bunkers with their heavy guns
and shooting snipers from the chimneys of houses.

The steepness of the hills to be assaulted and the bottlenecks opening into Japanese strongholds, with narrow spaces afforded for the deployment of the attacking forces,
presented many difficulties for the British.

Stillwell Advances

In North Burma, Lt. Gen. Joseph
W. Stilwell's Chinese scored a spectacular success in the advance down
the Mogaung valley with the capture of the village of Manpin, 10
miles north of Kamaing, southeast
Asia headquarters announced.

The sudden success seemed to indicate that Stilwell's men had broken the back of Japanese resistance which had delayed his offensive the first part of this month.

Stilwell's forces on the east side
of the Mogaung valley apparently
had gained six miles in the last 24
hours, because yesterday they were reported advancing on Warang, six miles northeast of Manpin.

Propose Seniority
Rights For Veterans

Providence, R. I., April 27 (AP)—
A postwar plan to allow servicemen
union seniority based on their terms
of military service is being proposed
to both industry and union leaders
by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, it
was announced last night by Carl Schoeninger of Detroit, Mich., national commander of the organization.

Schoeninger, in an interview, stated
that he has conferred in New York with officials of the National Association of Manufacturers and
in Washington with leaders of one National labor organization. Both groups have indicated approval, he
said.

The plan, Schoeninger said, would allow a veteran to pick up where he left off in a civilian job after his military service. It would also allow a veteran to pick up where he left off in a military job after his civilian service.

Speaking at a conference called by the interstate commission on the Delaware river basin to discuss its
plan for a $20,000,000 federal-state
program to clean up the Schuylkill, Duff asserted "the day of appease-
ment is gone."

"I think this plan agrees thoroughly with public thinking," he added. "In the great industrial state of Pennsylvania we should not be hostile toward industry but
at the same time should get rid of silt."

Faces Threat

Chairman Ellwood J. Turner of
the interstate commission, told the
conference of state and other conservancy agencies yesterday "we
have reached the point in our national history at which the public
is demanding greater consideration
of its rights in the matter of preventing and abating stream pollution."

"If we who are responsible or affected by existing conditions do not recognize and meet our respective responsibilities in correcting them,
then we will have certainly created
one basic reason at least for the
possible institution of an all-embracing federal program to accomplish the required objectives
for us. That is the threat, the danger of inaction on our part."

LOWER DEMAND FOR BABY CHICKS

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—
Pennsylvania's commercial baby
chick hatcheries will close from four to six weeks earlier this year
due to increased demand for chicks
by farmers throughout the state,
it was revealed today by the department of agriculture.

E. J. Lawless, Jr., in charge of the division of poultry and eggs in
the department's bureau of markets, said "the poultry industry in general will be benefited through the earlier closings."

"Buyers of baby chicks have been extremely cautious in their orders
for deliveries from hatcheries because of the oversupply of eggs in recent months," he added.

The national output of hatchery chicks for April and May will be cut nearly one-third for the same months last year a survey showed, with production in the middle At-

in the number of eggs set and two

ENTHUSIASM OF CROWD CANCELS KELLY PROGRAM

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Tech. Sgt. Charles E. (Commando) Kelly today fidgeted at his Shawano street home and wondered with his "mom" if the unfettered enthusiasm of his neighbors and other Pittsburgh admirers has been at least partially satiated.

Because last night, a crowd estimated by police at more than 20,000 surged through police lines in West Park just a few blocks from his northside home to abruptly end a day-long celebration that set Pittsburgh agog with feverish delight.

"We want Kelly," the unmanageable crowd shouted, as the reception committee entreated the adoring populace for quiet and order.

5 Women Faint

Five women fainted in the melee and 20 children were lost and had to be recovered at a police station before the Congressional Medal of Honor winner spoke in desperation.

"I don't have much to say," he said, "but I appreciate what you are trying to do and I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

Hushed momentarily into silence, the crowd again pressed toward the bandstand where the "one-man army" acknowledged the cheers, together with his family and city dignitaries.

Police then forced through the milling throng in an automobile directly to the bandstand to pick up Kelly as the committee cancelled the remainder of the program.

One police captain said it was one of the most spontaneous demonstrations he had witnessed in 30 years.

Earlier, showers of confetti and tucker tape rained on Kelly and his entourage during a parade that extended along 10 miles of crowded streets in almost every district of Pittsburgh.

WACs In Italy Awarded Plaques

With the Fifth Army in Italy, April 27 (AP)—Standing in the mud of a GI baseball diamond while air raid sirens wailed, 39 WACs, including seven British and seven French women, received the Fifth Army plaque "for excellence in discipline and performance of merit" from the hands of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark.

Clark said the WACs had been in Italy since the fall of Naples and that the Army could not get along without them.

"I know I'm an impatient man on the telephone, but when I try to get a number and a soft voice answers me, I calm right down," Clark said.

He added that the presence of the WACs had been a boost for the Army's morale.

Subway Riders Using OPA Tokens For Fare

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Proper disposal of 1,300 red and blue ration tokens, used by Philadelphia subway riders to beat the turnstiles, was being considered by government and public utility officials today.

George M. Greist, district rationing executive of the Office of Price Administration, said the tokens are government property and should be returned.

The Philadelphia Transit Co., however, smarting under the loss of $97.50, or 7 1/2 cents apiece, through the substitution, said that return of the tokens to OPA would be a nice "good will gesture," but PTC would like its money in return.

Until legal counsel comes through with an opinion, PTC is holding the tokens in its vaults "by right of possession."

ENTHUSIASM OF CROWD CANCELS KELLY PROGRAM

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Tech. Sgt. Charles E. (Commando) Kelly today fidgeted at his Shawano street home and wondered with his "mom" if the unfettered enthusiasm of his neighbors and other Pittsburgh admirers has been at least partially satiated.

Because last night, a crowd estimated by police at more than 20,000 surged through police lines in West Park just a few blocks from his northside home to abruptly end a day-long celebration that set Pittsburgh agog with feverish delight.

"We want Kelly," the unmanageable crowd shouted, as the reception committee entreated the adoring populace for quiet and order.

Five women fainted in the melee and 20 children were lost and had to be recovered at a police station before the Congressional Medal of Honor winner spoke in desperation.

"I don't have much to say," he said, "but I appreciate what you are trying to do and I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

Hushed momentarily into silence, the crowd again pressed toward the bandstand where the "one-man army" acknowledged the cheers, together with his family and city dignitaries.

Police then forced through the milling throng in an automobile directly to the bandstand to pick up Kelly as the committee cancelled the remainder of the program.

One police captain said it was one of the most spontaneous demonstrations he had witnessed in 30 years.

Earlier, showers of confetti and ticker tape rained on Kelly and his entourage during a parade that extended along 10 miles of crowded streets in almost every district of Pittsburgh.

"Thanks To All"

During a number of stops for Kelly to acknowledge the plaudits of assemblages en route, a cordon of more than 100 policemen strained against admirers who sought to catch a close glimpse of the tousle-haired, ruddy-faced hero of the Italian campaign.

After being presented with the key to the city by Mayor Cornelius D. Scully during a brief program in front of city hall, Kelly smilingly told the thousands:

"Gee, I don't know what to say, but thanks to you all."

Later, with "mom," his eight brothers and 40 close personal friends, the "one-man army" enjoyed a dinner given by the city's reception committee at a downtown hotel.

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP) — Proper disposal of 1,300 red and blue ration tokens, used by Philadelphia subway riders to beat the turnstiles, was being considered by government and public utility officials today.

George M. Greist, district rationing executive of the Office of Price Administration, said the tokens are government property and should be returned.

The Philadelphia Transit Co., however, smarting under the loss of $97.50, or 7 1/2 cents apiece, through the substitution, said that return of the tokens to OPA would be a nice "good will gesture," but PTC would like its money in return.

Until legal counsel comes through with an opinion, PTC is holding the tokens in its vaults "by right of possession."

WACs In Italy Awarded Plaques

With the Fifth Army in Italy, April 27 (AP)—Standing in the mud of a GI baseball diamond while air raid sirens wailed, 59 WACs, including seven British and seven French women, received the Fifth Army plaque "for excellence in discipline and performance of merit" from the hands of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark.

Clark said the WACs had been in Italy since the fall of Naples and that the Army could not get along without them.

"I know I'm an impatient man on the telephone, but when I try to get a number and a soft voice answers me, I calm right down," Clark said.

He added that the presence of the WACs had been a boost for the Army's morale.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES, THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1944

Story Of Founding Of Historic Emmitsburg, Maryland

By JAMES A. HELMAN

Magistrates
As far back as 1777, in the deed made by Christian Keefe to Peter Troxell, the names of Jacob Young and L. Boules are attached as magistrates. John Huston and Henry Williams were magistrates in 1804. William Emmitt was a magistrate before and after 1800. Patrick Owens, Lewis Motter, Major William Mooney, Michael C. Adelsberger, Frank Hoover, James Knauff, David Agnew, Andrew Eyster, George W. Proxell, Martin Sweeney, Henry Stokes, J. Thomas McBride, P. A. Maxell, M. F. Shuff and J. M. Kerrigan were other magistrates.

Carpenters
In the list of names of the first settlers of Emmitsburg we find Richard Baird, carpenter, who built the brick house that in 1906 was the Presbyterian parsonage, and there have been carpenters here ever since. George Smith, one of the early builders, erected in 1814 the Lutheran steeple. Peter Troxell was an architect as well as carpenter. In 1818 James Storm, who erected some of the buildings at St. Joseph's college, came to Emmitsburg. James Taylor was a prominent builder, constructing, among a number of buildings and structures in this section, the Monocacy bridge on the Baltimore road. Tehen, a Frederick carpenter, constructed Clairoux and the Roman Catholic church in town and some of the college buildings.

Joshua Shorb, Jeremiah Black, John Miller, and Jacob Rife, in their day, were the leading builders. After them Tyson and Lansing, Sebastian Florence, William Row, Samuel Plautt, Edward Baker, George Springer and E. Florence became in turn the leaders in the construction field.

Item—James Storm was a man of scientific mind, an architect of no mean capacity; always a student, he gave his attention to the collection of curiosities, Indian relics, shells and minerals. He had a valuable collection in a room shelved, cased and nicely arranged for display. At his death it was sold and taken away. It should have remained as a nucleus for a greater one for the town.

Schools

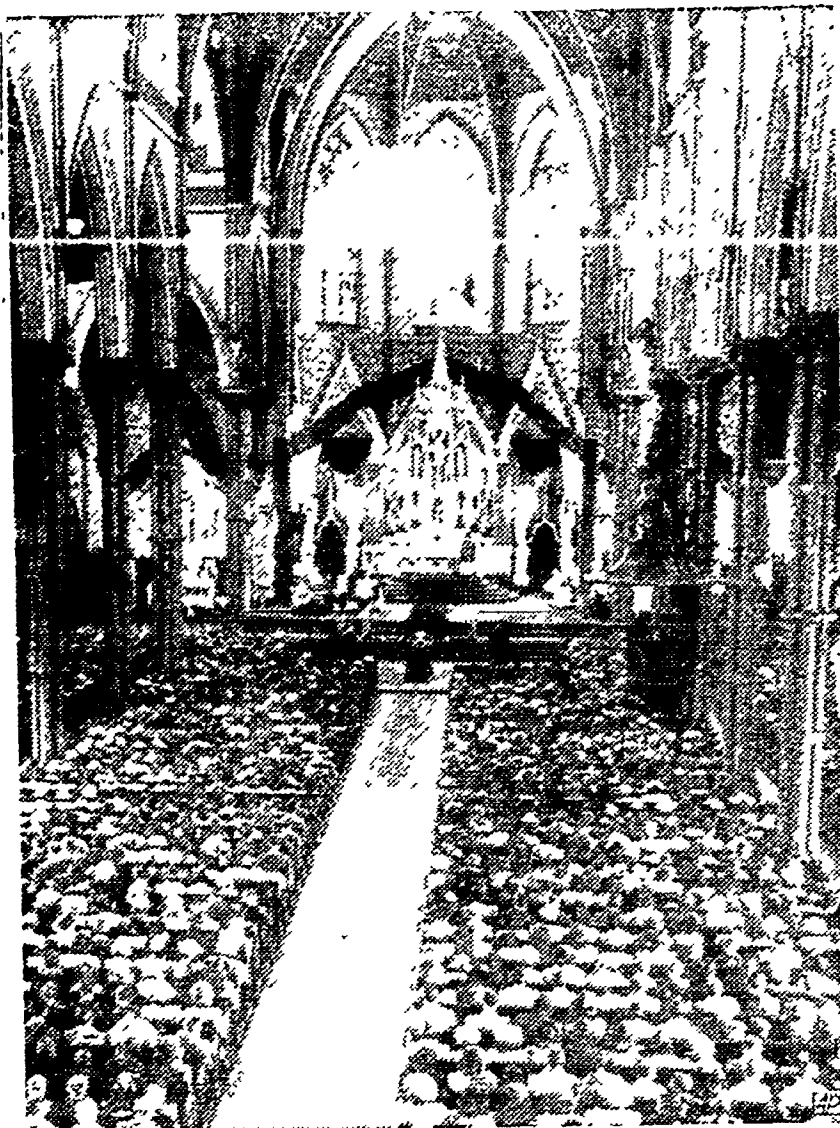

The first schoolmaster of the village was Thomas Cocklin. At the beginning of the century, 1800, Martin Cocoran taught the large scholars and Miss Cocoran the primary department in the Emmitsburg school. After a time Mr. Sanders and then Mr. Malady and William Muller became teachers. Mr. Muller, who established his mathematical academy on Church street, was well thought of by the community. Next came Isaac Burbank, an up-to-date teacher, who was quoted by his students throughout their lives. He married the daughter of Jacob Troxell, the hatter, and opposition to the marriage caused them to run away. They settled in Indiana and did well. Their daughter married Governor, later U. S. Senator, Oliver P. Morton.

There have been many teachers in the community, good, bad and indifferent, but few of them were liked by the youngsters who had to attend the schools. Among the teachers were James Knauff, Robert Crooks, Oliver McLean, Derios Thomas, Pearson, Donnelly, Barrack, Fish, Packard, Hill, Seabrook, Kerrigan and Frazer. A Mrs. Reid taught a private school for a time and Miss Martha Moore was a teacher of note for youngsters in the primary grades. The teachers in 1906 at the public school were Lloyd Palmer, principal; Miss Ruth Hoke and Miss Sallie Miller, assistants.

Public School Changes

The first school house was at the intersection of the Gettysburg road and the alley dividing the priest's lot. On that now vacant point all of the children up to 1820 attended school and learned the three "R's." A large brick house was then erected on the lot where St. Euphemia school now stands. It was divided by a partition separating the boys from the girls. Here up to 1880 the public school for boys was conducted. Prior to 1860 a good house for a girls school was erected on the vacant lot between the Methodist cemetery and Patterson's stable. The two earlier school houses were torn down and a new school was erected from the materials. After using that school building for a number of years the present building on the pike was erected.

About 1830 a brick school house was built on part of the Lutheran church lot. Here a select school was taught by competent teachers, giving instructions not to be had at the public school at that time. The school was torn down when the cemetery was enlarged.

Richard Gilson conducted a private school where Dr. Eichelberger's garden was located. The Rev. G. W.

Anghenbaugh and E. E. Higbee taught a select school where the vacant lot of A. A. Annan was later. The Catholics built St. Euphemia house to accommodate their rapidly increasing school which occupied the hall built by the Roman Catholics and the town.

Six-Horse Teams

All hauling from Baltimore to the west was done by teams in the early years, and usually these teams consisted of six horses. The town was on the route to Pittsburgh and each year hundreds of teams passed through the town east and west. An occasional team was decorated with bells. These teams would travel in companies from a few to a dozen or more, for protection and help, stopping at night at one of the many taverns along the road.

These taverns had large wagon yards to accommodate these almost daily visitors. The teamster would select a spot to stand his wagon, take the feeding trough from the rear of the wagon, fasten it to the tongue and tie his horses on either side to feed and rest through the night. There were no other accommodation for the horses regardless of rain, snow, wind or heat. There were no blankets to cover the animals in winter.

Nor were the provisions for the wagoner much better.

The teamster carried his bed, unfolding the covers as he took them from the wagon and spread the few blankets on the floor of the bar-room and slept.

Farmers Haul Supplies

As the teams approached the town, it was a common thing to see our boys run to the end of the town to meet them, and walk beside the teamster. It was an occupation every boy intended to follow when he became a man. These wagons were loaded with goods for the merchants out west. Returning they brought flour, whiskey, lard, dried fruit and many other articles.

The millers in this section did not use the teams running between the west and Baltimore, but sent their flour to Baltimore by teams belong-

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES, THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1944

Story Of Founding Of Historic Emmitsburg, Maryland

editions of The Gettysburg Times)
Magistrates

As far back as 1777, in the deed made by Christian Keefe to Peter Troxell, the names of Jacob Young and L. Boulas are attached as magistrates. John Huston and Henry Williams were magistrates in 1804. William Emmitt was a magistrate before and after 1809. Patrick Owens, Lewis Motter, Major William Mooney, Michael C. Adelsberger, Frank Hoover, James Knauff, David Agnew, Andrew Eyster, George W. Troxell, Martin Sweeney, Henry Stokes, J. Thomas McBride, F. A. Maxwell, M. F. Shuff and J. M. Kerrigan were other magistrates.

Carpenters

In the list of names of the first settlers of Emmitsburg we find Richard Baird, carpenter, who built the brick house that in 1906 was the Presbyterian parsonage, and there have been carpenters here ever since. George Smith, one of the early builders, erected in 1814 the Lutheran steeple. Peter Troxell was an architect as well as carpenter. In 1818 James Storm, who erected some of the buildings at St. Joseph's college, came to Emmitsburg. James Taylor was a prominent builder, constructing, among a number of buildings and structures in this section, the Monocacy bridge on the Baltimore road. Tehen, a Frederick carpenter, constructed Clairvoux and the Roman Catholic church in town and some of the college buildings.

Joshua Shorb, Jeremiah Black, John Miller, and Jacob Rife, in their day, were the leading builders. After them Tyson and Lansing, Sebastian Florence, William Row, Samuel Plautt, Edward Baker, George Springer and E. Florence became in turn the leaders in the construction field.

Item—James Storm was a man of scientific mind, an architect of no mean capacity; always a student, he gave his attention to the collection of curiosities, Indian relics, shells and minerals. He had a valuable collection in a room shelved, cased and nicely arranged for display. At his death it was sold and taken away. It should have remained as a nucleus for a greater one for the town.

Schools

The first schoolmaster of the village was Thomas Cocklin. At the beginning of the century, 1800, Martin Cocoran taught the large scholars and Miss Cocoran the primary department in the Emmitsburg school. After a time Mr. Sanders and then Mr. Malady and William Muller became teachers. Mr. Muller, who established his mathematical academy on Church street, was well thought of by the community. Next came Isaac Burbank, an up-to-date teacher, who was quoted by his students throughout their lives. MAJOR PARTIES PREPARING FOR HOT CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—Republican and Democratic state leaders moved quickly today to launch intensive general election campaigns following a primary which brought expressions of strong sentiment for Governor Thomas E. Dewey and President Roosevelt in presidential preference voting.

"We are going to go the limit," declared Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, in announcing the meeting of the state committee May 20 to organize the campaign. He added "we are going to have a big campaign. If we don't get this one, God help the country."

Pennsylvania's 70 delegates to the Republican national convention will meet with the committee in Philadelphia but organization leaders declined to say whether the instructed delegation will decide then to back Dewey as a result of the 16 to one vote they received over the state Tuesday.

Martin Is Silent

Governor Martin, head of the celebration, has made no comment on the election returns although he previously said a decision could come at the May session "if there is a crystallization of sentiment" for a candidate by that time.

Democratic party nominees named Tuesday were called here for a meeting tomorrow with State Chairman David L. Lawrence to discuss campaign plans. The state committee also will meet May 24 to reorganize.

Lawrence's comment on the returns was "there was no opposition so there is little for me to say about the primary. As there was no fight, there is no victory for us to exult over."

Speaking of the party's support for the President—Roosevelt received 249,859 Democratic preference votes in 6292 precincts and was the choice of 5612 Republicans in 6515 districts—Lawrence said "it's not a question of a fourth term but a continuance of the first term."

Dewey Is Favored

In 6515 of 8197 precincts in Pennsylvania, Dewey received 126,287 Republican votes; Governor Martin 3657; John W. Bricker, 2811; Douglas MacArthur, 7616; Harold E. Stassen, 1932; and Wendell Willkie, 1037.

The vote for Republican superior court in 7494 out of 8197 precincts was Arthur H. James, 400,507; J. Frank Graff, 385,407; Chester R. Rhodes, 117,168; Democratic superior court in 7307 districts, James, 50,249; Rhodes, 201,197; and F. Clair Ross, 237,564; and for Democratic auditor general in 7287 precincts, John F. Breslin, 90,099; G. Harold Wagner, 190,170.

Thirty Pennsylvania members of the U. S. house of representatives also were renominated, while Rep. Francis J. Myers, Philadelphia, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. senate, and Rep. William I. Troutman Shamokin, won a nomination for state senator. Rep. Grant Furlough lost the Democratic nomination to Dr. Thomas E. Morgan in the 24th district.

In the selection of nominees for the state assembly, voters named seven women and defeated at least eight incumbents seeking reelection.

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 34

Adrienne crouched with the others under the protruding ledge of rock. She saw the searchlight had again veered in their direction and that the sentry's rifle was pointed at her. It had come. Death stared her in the face; but she did not move or cry out. She must die bravely.

She was conscious of the fact that Raoul using a revolver had fired twice at the sentry and that his shots had missed. Then came unexpected deliverance. At the very instant the sentry pointed his rifle at Adrienne, someone hurried on him from behind the rocky cliff. Johnny, narrowly escaping one of Raoul's shots which almost grazed his cheek, threw himself at the sentry from the rear, wrestling his rifle from his grasp, and hit him over the head with the butt of his revolver.

A second later he had reached the ledge and caught Adrienne up in his arms. She heard the one word, "Darling," and recognized Johnny's voice as she clung to him. With a shout to the two members of the crew appearing from behind the cliffs, he ran along the rocky ledge. Followed by Raoul and Charles, they also made a mad rush for the water's edge. Shots from sentries on the opposite side of the ledge flew past them as they ran.

The first member of the crew to reach Raoul's side launched the rubber dinghy, and catching hold of Adrienne, shifted her into it. The others got aboard swiftly and the rubber boat with all five paddling, swept into the waters of the Channel toward the flying boat which was awaiting them some distance from the shore.

The plane had already suffered some damage to its hull and the float beneath the wings. The forward, rear, and amidships gunners were returning the enemy's fire from the long range guns across the harbor, as well as from the anti-aircraft batteries.

Shells burst in the water on both sides of the rubber boat. Then suddenly when several hundred yards from the plane, a fragment of shell exploding in the water struck Adrienne in the shoulder. Lurching sideways from the shock she lost her balance and toppled overboard.

When Johnny saw her disappear in the sea, it seemed to him that for an instant his own heart stopped beating before he dived after her into the cold water.

In the rays of the searchlight, the anxious watchers in the dinghy saw him reappear on the surface holding the unconscious girl with one arm, while he swam towards the flying boat; but in the strong current they found it difficult to reach him.

Farrel was not far from the plane and within sight of the navigator when a piece of shell pierced his side. Though he still struggled on they could see he was almost exhausted.

Rufé Wainwright leaped into the sea. Johnny felt his grip on Adrienne weakening from loss of blood. He heard Wainwright's voice shouting to him. Then he felt himself gripped by a strong arm and knew Wainwright had reached him. A sudden black mist came over him.

He opened his eyes to find he was lying on a cot in the wardroom of the plane covered with blankets and wrapped in a sheepskin lined coat. Then someone was holding him up and forcing hot rum down his throat. Wainwright's eyes were looking into his anxiously.

"There that's better — you're coming around — nearly passed out cold on us old boy, but luckily I got you in the nick of time."

"Adrienne — is she safe?" Johnny tried to rise on one shoulder.

"Here he quiet for a bit. Adrienne's across from you," rejoined Rufé with a grin as he patted his arm. "She's doing all right — came around after we dosed her with rum, and managed to get on some dry clothes. Her wound is luckily only a flesh wound, and it's been attended to, eh Adrienne?"

Adrienne, whose shoulder had been already dressed by another member of the crew and who lay wrapped in a pilot's sheepskin coat and blankets managed to smile at them both from the opposite cot.

"Thank God you can speak to me, darling. I was so afraid."

"Thought I'd passed out on you honey. You don't know what a tough baby I am. But you look different, sweeter. What have they done to your hair — that lovely hair of yours?" Johnny's eyes were fixed on her dark head with its boyish bob.

"It will grow again, dear. Don't let that worry you."

"We can thank you, Wainwright, for our rescue," Johnny gripped his hand.

"I don't deserve it all. Simmons saw I was hard pressed and helped me bring you both in."

"And the others," inquired Gilbert.

"All safe," came the answer. "You were hit in the thigh, Farrel, and I'm afraid there's a splinter there that'll have to be removed when we get you to a hospital. It's been dressed however, and bound up temporarily."

"Wainwright, I want to introduce you — this is my wife," Farrel spoke with his old time split in which there was both pride and cynicism.

"So that's the way it is," Wainwright chuckled and offered Johnny his hand. "Congratulations, you lucky dog."

Adrienne looking at Johnny laughed a little and the color came back faintly into her pale face. The happiness of being together again transcended every other thought. It seemed to her that after all the world was a wonderful place. She could feel the vibration of the plane as every moment it brought them nearer to England and freedom.

SUPREME TEST FORESEEN IN WARD STRIKE

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

Washington, April 27 (AP)—The war labor board, veteran of many crises, risked its prestige once more today in the seizure of Montgomery Ward and Company. The survival or dissolution of the board in its present form may hinge on this attempt to make its order stick.

The WLB has found in Sewell Avery (directing influence of Montgomery Ward, U. S. Gypsum, and Hummer manufacturing) an opponent to be reckoned with.

Other lawsuits and cases of delayed compliance have backed up behind Avery's defiance and until the Montgomery Ward case is disposed of the logjam is expected to grow.

The display of military insignia started in medieval times.

Gets Furlough To See Ill Daughter

San Francisco, April 27 (AP)—Staff Sgt. Elmer Truax rested briefly at Transbay Hamilton field Army air base early today after a sleepless 27-hour trans-Pacific flight under presidential-ordered furlough to his Rahway, New Jersey, home to see his 18-month-old daughter, who is ill with the dread blood disease leukemia.

Sgt. Truax, 24, has priority No. 1 for a dawn ticket to continue his flight east.

The soldier's daughter, Theresa, is reported in serious condition at home in Rahway.

The father has been in the south Pacific 10 months. "And I'm not back yet; I won't be until I get home," he said.

His wife Alice had appealed to President Roosevelt to permit the sergeant to return home.

Craftsmen of Florence, Italy, are renowned for their wrought iron, gold and silver, and embossed leather.

TWO MINERS KILLED

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Two district miners lost their lives yesterday in separate mine accidents. John Makowski, 50, of New Kensington, died of a fractured skull and internal injuries after being caught under a coal car in the Oakmont mine of the Hillman Coal Company at Barking. Harry Sager, 27, of McDonald, was crushed between a cutting machine and wall of coal in the Pittsburgh Coal Company mine at McDonald.

TREE PLANTING PROJECT

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Boy Scouts and school children joined in a ceremony yesterday marking the planting of the first of 20,000 seedling trees in a project sponsored by Crawford county. J. M. Hartman, of Meadville, planted the tree in a 20-acre section purchased by the county commissioners.

FALLS TO DEATH

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Injuries suffered in a fall from a second-floor porch of her home caused the death yesterday of Barbara Schirm, 2, the coroner reported.

MAJOR PARTIES PREPARING FOR HOT CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—Republican and Democratic state leaders moved quickly today to launch intensive general election campaigns following a primary which brought expressions of strong sentiment for Governor Thomas E. Dewey and President Roosevelt in presidential preference voting.

"We are going to go the limit," declared Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, in announcing the meeting of the state committee May 20 to organize the campaign. He added "we are going to have a big campaign. If we don't get this one, God help the country."

Pennsylvania's 70 delegates to the Republican national convention will meet with the committee in Philadelphia but organization leaders declined to say whether the uninstructed delegation will decide then to back Dewey as a result of the 16 to one write-in vote he received over the state Tuesday.

Martin Is Silent
Governor Martin, head of the delegation, has made no comment on the election returns although he previously said a decision could come at the May session "if there is a crystallization of sentiment" for a candidate by that time.

Democratic party nominees named Tuesday were called here for a meeting tomorrow with State Chairman David L. Lawrence to discuss campaign plans. The state committee also will meet May 24 to reorganize.

Lawrence's comment on the returns was "there was no opposition so there is little for me to say about the primary. As there was no fight, there is no victory for us to exult over."

Speaking of the party's support for the President—Roosevelt received 249,859 Democratic preference votes in 6292 precincts and was the choice of 5612 Republicans in 6315 districts—Lawrence said "it's not a question of a fourth term but a continuance of the first term."

Dewey Is Favored
In 6515 of 8197 precincts in Pennsylvania, Dewey received 126,287 Republican votes; Governor Martin 3657; John W. Bricker, 2811; Douglas MacArthur, 7616; Harold E. Stassey, 1932; and Wendell Willkie, 1037.

The vote for Republican superior court in 7494 out of 8197 precincts was Arthur H. James, 400,507; J. Frank Graff, 365,407; Chester R. Rhodes, 117,168; Democratic superior court in 7307 districts, James, 50,249; Rhodes, 201,197, and F. Clair Ross, 237,564; and for Democratic auditor general in 7287 precincts, John F. Breslin, 90,099; G. Harold Wagner, 190,170.

Thirty Pennsylvania members of the U. S. house of representatives also were renominated, while Rep. Francis J. Myers, Philadelphia, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. senate, and Rep. William I. Troutman, Shamokin, won a nomination for state senator. Rep. Grant Furlough lost the Democratic nomination to Dr. Thomas E. Morgan in the 24th district.

In the selection of nominees for the state assembly, voters named seven women and defeated at least eight incumbents seeking reelection.

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 34
Adrienne crouched with the others under the protruding ledge of rock. She saw the searchlight had again veered in their direction and that the sentry's rifle was pointed at her. It had come. Death stared her in the face; but she did not move or cry out. She must die bravely.

She was conscious of the fact that Raoul using a revolver had fired twice at the sentry and that his shots had missed. Then came unexpected deliverance. At the very instant the sentry pointed his rifle at Adrienne, someone hurled a bomb from behind the rocky cliff. Johnny, narrowly escaping one of Raoul's shots which almost grazed his cheek, threw himself at the sentry from the rear, wrestling his rifle from his grasp, and hit him over the head with the butt of his revolver.

A second later he had reached the ledge and caught Adrienne up in his arms. She heard the one word, "Darling," and recognized Johnny's voice as she clung to him. With a shout to the two members of the crew appearing from behind the cliffs, he ran along the rocky ledge. Followed by Raoul and Charles, they also made a mad rush for the water's edge. Shots from sentries on the opposite side of the ledge flew past them as they ran.

The first member of the crew to reach Farrel's side launched the rubber dinghy, and catching hold of Adrienne, shifted her into it. The others got aboard swiftly and the rubber boat with all five paddling, swept into the waters of the Channel toward the flying boat which was awaiting them some distance from the shore.

The plane had already suffered some damage to its hull and the float beneath the wings. The forward, rear, and amidships gunners were returning the enemy's fire from the long range guns across the harbor, as well as from the anti-aircraft batteries.

Shells burst in the water on both sides of the rubber boat. Then suddenly when several hundred yards from the plane, a fragment of shell exploding in the water struck Adrienne in the shoulder. Lurching sideways from the shock she lost her balance and toppled overboard.

When Johnny saw her disappear in the sea, it seemed to him that for an instant his own heart stopped beating before he dived after her into the cold water.

In the rays of the searchlight, the anxious watchers in the dinghy saw him reappear on the surface holding the unconscious girl with one arm, while he swam towards the flying boat; but in the strong current they found it difficult to reach him.

Farrel was not far from the plane and within sight of the navigator when a piece of shell pierced his side. Though he still struggled on they could see he was almost exhausted.

Rufe Wainwright leaped into the sea. Johnny felt his grip on Adrienne weakening from loss of blood. He heard Wainwright's voice shouting to him. Then he felt himself gripped by a strong arm and knew Wainwright had reached him. A sudden black mist came over him.

He opened his eyes to find he was lying on a cot in the wardroom of the plane covered with blankets and wrapped in a sheepskin lined coat. Then someone was holding him up and forcing hot rum down his throat. Wainwright's eyes were looking into his anxious.

"There, that's better—you're coming around—nearly passed out cold on us old boys, but luckily I got you in the nick of time."

"Adrienne—is she safe?" Johnny tried to rise on one shoulder.

"Here, lie quiet for a bit. Adrienne's across from you," rejoined Rufe with a grin, as he patted his arm. "She's doing all right—came around after we dosed her with rum, and managed to get on some dry clothes. Her wound is luckily only a flesh wound, and it's been attended to, eh Adrienne?"

Adrienne, whose shoulder had been already dressed by another member of the crew and who lay wrapped in a pilot's sheepskin coat and blankets managed to smile at them both from the opposite cot.

"Thank God you can speak to me, darling. I was so afraid."

"Thought I'd passed out on you honey. You don't know what a tough baby I am. But you look different, sweetheart. What have they done to your hair—that lovely hair of yours?" Johnny's eyes were fixed on her dark head with its boyish bob.

"It will grow again, dear. Don't let that worry you."

"We can thank you, Wainwright, for our rescue," Johnny gripped his hand.

"I don't deserve it all. Simmons saw I was hard pressed and helped me bring you both in."

"And the others," inquired Gilbert.

"All safe," came the answer. "You were hit in the thigh, Farrel, and I'm afraid there's a splinter there that'll have to be removed when we get you to a hospital. It's been dressed however, and bound up, temporarily."

"Wainwright, I want to introduce you—this is my wife," Farrel spoke with his old time spirit in which there was both pride and cynicism.

"So that's the way it is," Wainwright chuckled and offered Johnny his hand. "Congratulations, you lucky dog."

Adrienne looking at Johnny laughed a little and the color came back faintly into her pale face. The happiness of being together again transcended every other thought. It seemed to her that after all the world was a wonderful place. She could feel the vibration of the plane as every moment it brought them nearer to England and freedom.

Youth Killed In Crash Of Plane

Norristown, Pa., April 27 (AP)—Nelson Derstein, 22, Hatfield, Pa., farmer, was killed last night in the crash of his two-seater cabin plane against a hill on the farm of Abram Landis, near Salfordville, 18 miles northwest of here.

State police said he was on the way home from New Hanover, Pa., airport, to which he had flown for fuel.

A cousin, Harold Kulp, visiting the Landis farm, waved to Derstein as the plane passed at an altitude of about 150 feet. A moment later it crashed.

2 Elderly Sisters Saved By Postman

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—The postman rang twice yesterday and saved the lives of two elderly ladies.

It was the custom of Mrs. Sallie R. Royce, 76, and her sister, Mrs. Doscha Kramer, 64, to chat every afternoon with the postman when he delivered mail to their small apartment.

Yesterday the postman rang the bell. He rang it a second time and when there was no answer summoned police.

When two detectives broke into the apartment they found both sisters unconscious from coal gas. Both were rushed to a hospital. Physicians said Mrs. Royce was in a serious condition, but had a chance to recover. Mrs. Kramer recovered shortly after being admitted.

SUPREME TEST FORESEEN IN WARD STRIKE

By JOSEPH A. LOETUS

Washington, April 27 (AP)—The war labor board, veteran of many crises, risked its prestige once more today in the seizure of Montgomery Ward and Company. The survival or dissolution of the board in its present form may hinge on this attempt to make its order stick.

The WLB has found in Sewell Avery (directing influence of Montgomery Ward, U. S. Gypsum, and Hummer manufacturing) an opponent to be reckoned with.

Other lawsuits and cases of delayed compliance have backed up behind Avery's defiance and until the Montgomery Ward case is disposed of the logjam is expected to grow.

The Chicago mail-order house seizure may be the beginning of a test that will go to a supreme court decision but, if so, that is not the government's choice. It is seeking a decision in one fall, not protracted litigation.

The WLB has operated largely on a basis of voluntary compliance. Out of more than 6,000 disputes, it has referred 17 to the President for enforcement of decisions. Seven of these were employer defiance, and Montgomery Ward accounts for two of the seven.

The board operated for more than a year and a half without having to go into court. Avery set a fashion when he sued in behalf of U. S. Gypsum Company (Warren, Ohio) last September, and subsequently in five others. The total court actions now pending against the board is 16. Avery's six cases include four Montgomery Ward actions covering six cities. His last defiance is the Hummer Manufacturing company, a Montgomery Ward division which makes gun parts.

Gets Furlough To See Ill Daughter

San Francisco, April 27 (AP)—Staff Sgt. Elmer Truax rested briefly at Transbay Hamilton field Army air base early today after a sleepless 27-hour trans-Pacific flight under presidential-ordered furlough to his Rahway, New Jersey, home to see his 18-month-old daughter, who is ill with the dread blood disease leukemia.

Sgt. Truax, 24, has priority No. 1 for a dawn ticket to continue his flight east.

The soldier's daughter, Theresa, is reported in serious condition at home in Rahway.

The father has been in the south Pacific 10 months. "And I'm not back yet; I won't be until I get home," he said.

His wife, Alice, had appealed to President Roosevelt to permit the sergeant to return home.

TWO MINERS KILLED

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Two district miners lost their lives yesterday in separate mine accidents. John Makowski, 50, of New Kensington, died of a fractured skull and internal injuries after being caught under a coal car in the Oakmont mine of the Hillman Coal Company at Barking. Harry Sager, 27, of McDonald, was crushed between a cutting machine and wall of coal in the Pittsburgh Coal Company mine at McDonald.

TREE PLANTING PROJECT

Titusville, Pa., April 27 (AP)—Boy Scouts and school children joined in a ceremony yesterday marking the planting of the first of 20,000 seedling trees in a project sponsored by Crawford county. J. M. Hartman, of Meadville, planted the tree in a 20-acre section purchased by the county commissioners.

FALLS TO DEATH

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Injuries suffered in a fall from a second-floor porch of her home caused the death yesterday of Barbara Schirm, 2, the coroner reported.

1,000 MINERS THREATEN TO GO ON STRIKE

Johnstown, Pa., April 27 (AP)—The War Labor Board today faced an ultimatum by 1,000 members of United Mine Workers Local 6394 at Conemaugh who threatened to "immediately cease work" if the board ignores the request by mine workers for $40 retroactive pay.

Cessation of "wildcat" strikes in five other central Pennsylvania coal mines accompanied the news that Conemaugh local had passed a resolution demanding "immediate action" by the WLB.

Harry Hebron, president, and Lou Rovansk, secretary, of the local whose members are employed by the Industrial Coal company, a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel company, said no strike deadline has been set, but that copies of the resolution have been sent to the WLB, to UMW President John L. Lewis and to James Mark, UMW District 2 president.

Settle Walkouts

Meanwhile, five other pits, employing more than 2,500 miners, were in operation after settlement of walkouts described by the union as unauthorized.

One-day walkouts protesting failure to rehire former workers at the Big Ben Coal company's Twin Rocks mine employing 150 men and the Imperial Cardiff Coal company's Nanty-Glo pit employing 300 ended last night.

Also returning last night were 1,800 Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal company employees who stopped to end a walkout that began last Friday over the company's refusal to transfer two miners to another working place in the mine.

MAN AND WIFE HARD HIT UNDER NEW TAX PLAN

By JAMES MARLOW AND
GEORGE ZIELKE
Washington, April 27 (AP)—The tax simplification bill now before congress would do away with the procedure under which husband and wife could juggle their income tax exemption in whatever way would benefit them most.

When both husband and wife have income, this would leave them just two possibilities:

- Same Exemption
1. File a joint return and take $1,000 total tax exemption.
2. File separate returns and take $500 surtax exemption each.

If a wife has no income, her husband—as always—could take the exemption for both, which under the proposed law would total $1,000.

At present, when both husband and wife have income, they can divide the exemption (now $1,200 for a couple) in any way they want—to keep taxable income out of upper surtax brackets with their higher rates.

Thus the husband now can take the whole $1,200 exemption—if, for example, he's making a big enough salary to put him into a higher surtax bracket, whereas his wife's income may, even without a cent of exemption, stay in the first surtax bracket.

Under the pending plan, the special exemption of the first $1,500 of pay from the armed services would be retained. So the working wife of a serviceman whose service pay was less than $1,500 could claim $1,000 exemption on her income.

Marital Status
The simplification bill also would change the date for determination of marital status for tax purposes. Under present law, the status is determined as of July 1.

The streamline plan would change that to Dec. 31, with a noteworthy exception: if the husband or wife died during the year, the surviving spouse would be considered married during the entire year.

A similar consideration is applied to the new definition of dependents. Under the streamliner, a dependent is anyone who receives more than half his support during the year from the taxpayer. So the surtax exemption would be allowed even though the dependent wasn't in existence the entire year.

Change Dependents
In other words, a child born any time during the year—even at the last minute of Dec. 31—would carry a full year's exemption. Also, if a child supported by the taxpayer died at any time during the year, a full surtax exemption for this child would be allowed.

There's a significant exception to all this: Under the proposed law, a child whose earnings were more than $500 would become a taxpayer, have to take his $500 exemption himself, and so couldn't provide any exemption for a parent even if he depended on that parent for more than half his support.

By the same token, a child earn-

Baruch Promoting
"Physical Medicine"

New York, April 27 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch has donated $1,000,000 for promotion of "physical medicine," especially for treatment of returning war veterans, and says that "if it works out, I am prepared to put most of my fortune into it—I believe in it."

Physical medicine makes use of massages, water, light, heat, cold, electricity, occupational pursuits, exercises, muscular manipulations and various mechanical devices in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases.

"I am convinced," Baruch said yesterday, "that returning men and women now in the armed forces will need the advantages of physical medicine, and I feel that this program will help restore discharged soldiers to normal physical and mental condition."

MUNITION DUMP
BLASTED BY JAP BOMB ATTACK

By ROBERT EUNSON

Aboard a U. S. Destroyer off Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, April 23 (Delayed) (AP)—The Japanese bombardier who dropped a bomb squarely on a captured enemy ammunition dump on the Hollandia beach today caused the biggest fireworks of the entire invasion.

With Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, Sixth Army commander, on a destroyer off shore, I watched the dump go up in flames and successive explosions where an hour before I stood and talked with Associated Press War Correspondent Asahel Bush.

At that time, Bush was typing his eye-witness invasion story in the midst of a dump containing aerial bombs, ammunition, hundreds of gasoline drums and canned food. Bush said he was going back to Hollandia immediately and rejoin an assault unit.

Beach In Flames

When the bomb struck, the whole beach went up in flames. Aerial bombs exploding looked like a Christmas tree thousands of feet high.

Neither an authoritative inventory

nor an accurate estimate of the quantity or value of the Japanese booty captured on the Hollandia beaches during the invasion last Saturday probably will ever be made.

The first assault units ashore immediately went about the business of consolidating the beachhead and driving inland, while other troops which landed later were too busy getting American supplies ashore to do more than make a casual observation of the immense pile of Japanese booty.

Before the lone Japanese bomber dropped a stick of bombs on the beachhead, observers saw airplane motors, wing assemblies, aerial bombs, munitions, all kinds of parachutes and great piles of rice and clothing. The exact nature of some of the items seen can not be revealed for military reasons.

PATTON STIRS
HIGH LEADERS

Washington, April 27 (AP)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton appeared to be in very warm—if not hot—water again today.

Patton, who incurred official criticism after the conquest of Sicily when it was disclosed that he had slapped an enlisted man, has stirred up Congress anew with the remark that Americans, British and Russians are destined "to rule the world."

The War Department reacted swiftly, Secretary Stimson declaring: "General Patton was expressing his own personal views. He was not speaking for the War Department." Representative Summers (D-Tex) observed that the "general has been shooting off his head again," and he added:

"If the American people will do less talking we will do much better. We need a general buttoning up of our mouths."

There were other critical comments among them the suggestions of Senators Brewster of Maine and Wherry of Nebraska that foreign policy statements should be left to Secretary of State Hull.

In London it was said that there was no comment from Patton following the War Department disclaimer.

MAN AND WIFE HARD HIT UNDER NEW TAX PLAN

GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, April 27 (AP)—The tax simplification bill now before congress would do away with the procedure under which husband and wife could juggle their income tax exemption in whatever way would benefit them most.

The new proposal, if enacted, would set the surtax exemption at $500 for each person. (The normal tax, operating like the present victory tax, would have a flat $500 exemption regardless of dependents or marital status.)

When both husband and wife have income, this would leave them just two possibilities:

1. File a joint return and take $1,000 total surtax exemption.
2. File separate returns and take $500 surtax exemption each.

If a wife has no income, her husband—as always—could take the exemption for both, which under the proposed law would total $1,000.

MUSIC LOVERS ALL

Chicago (AP)—Patrice Munsel, scheduled to play the leading role in "The Tales of Hoffman," was ill and Josephine Antoine, the only other Metropolitan Opera singer who could take her place, was en route to New York.

Miss Antoine was stopped at Toledo by telegrams instructing her to return immediately to sing Miss Munsel's part. She returned in time by taking the next west-bound train and the only available seat—in a coach smoking car. Passengers refrained from smoking in deference to the prima donna's throat.

Nearly one million man-days every year are tied up in fighting forest fires in the United States.
